Aerial Sorties On Tunisian Front Are Also Being Stepped Up

CONSTANT RAINS HAMPER ACTIVITY

Details Of Fighting In Tunisia Are Meagre—Nazis Use Glider Troops

By LEO V. DOLAN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Dec. 11.—The Germans have launched new tank assaults against Allied forces entrenched in the Tebourba area and are stepping up their aerial sorties, dispatches from Tunisia said today.

A Reuter correspondent reported from the Tunisian battlefront that "the German counter-blow has lost none of its punch."

German deserters crossing to the American lines reported that Nazi troops are running short of food, according to another Reuter dispatch.

Details Meagre

Details of the renewed German thrusts were meager but it was understood that the British First Army, strongly supported by American armor, were meeting the enemy assaults successfully.

The Nazi air force increased its activity to carry out both day and night sorties against the Allied positions and dispatches from Allied headquarters said that the Germans were using numerous glider squadrons, principally in the southern sector, to counter activity of American parachutists.

Wednesday night for the first time German airmen undertook a

Japan's Air Power Greatly Decreased

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Virtual collapse of Japan as a major air power is reflected today in battle reports which show that American Army, Navy and Marine Corps airmen control the skies in every active Pacific war theater.

In the Aleutians, the Solomons and New Guinea U. S. combat pilots have encountered little or no aerial opposition for weeks. This fact alone foreshadows an early aerial offensive against Jap bases on New Britain and the northern Solomons.

Big Base May Be Target

Navy men believe that even Truk, Nippon's greatest and most powerful Pacific base, may become a target for aerial attack when American and United Nations forces are able to expand their present airfield facilities.

According to these sources, Japan lost the cream of its pilot personnel in the long string of defeats in the Coral Sea, Midway and in the Solomons campaign.

With the destruction of the major

Submarines And Ship Have Battle

Nazi Submarines Surface And Shell United Nations Vessel At Sea

(International News Service)

A gun battle at sea between two Nazi submarines and a medium-sized United Nations vessel which was sunk by shell fire early in November off the east coast of South America with the loss of 16 lives was described today by survivors who were landed at an east coast port.

Before the vessel was sunk the submarines machine-gunned the deck, wounding the captain, who died later in one of two lifeboats in which the 32 survivors escaped, according to the navy department's announcement. Among the dead were five of the vessel's eight passengers.

The survivors said the two U-boats surfaced after one of them had fired a torpedo that missed its mark, and opened up with machine gun and shell fire.

One lifeboat was picked up two and a half days after the attack while the other sailed for seven days before reaching an isiand.

Allied Ground Forces Smash At Japs At Buna

Seek To Blast Nipponese From Last Foothold In Southeast New Guinea

HAND-TO-HAND FIGHTING ENSUES

Allied Airmen Giving Full Support To Ground Forces In Battle

By LEE VAN ATTA
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS, In Australia, Dec. 11.—Bitter hand-to-hand fighting raged today around the Japanese base of Buna as American and Australian troops struck mighty blows to blast the Nipponese from their last remaining foothold in southeast New Guinea.

Allied ground forces smashed mercilessly at Jap defense positions after quelling a second desperate enemy counter-attack with concentrated artillery and machine-gun fire.

An official headquarters communique revealing the increased fury of battle around Buna confirmed an earlier announcement by Australian Prime Minister John Curtin that allied jungle fighters had completely occupied the Gona area to the northwest.

"A night counter-attack by the enemy in the Buna area collapsed under our fire," the communique said.

"Bitter hand-to-hand fighting ensued throughout the position in a struggle for enemy machine-gun emplacements."

Most Difficult Fighting Conditions In Campaign Waged In New Guinea

(EDITOR'S NOTE: General MacArthur's victory with Australian troops at Gona is discussed in the following article by Major Paul C. Raborg, noted military analyst and author of "Mechanized Might.")

By MAJOR PAUL C. RABORG
(Written Especially for International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—About the middle of September, many persons in the United Nations were greatly worried for fear that the Japanese would capture our air base on southeastern New Guinea at Port Moresby. But now, three and a half months later, the good news is given that Gona, a Japanese base on the opposite side of the Owen Stanley Mountains, has been captured by Australian troops under the command of General Douglas MacArthur.

In mid-September, the Nipponese jungle soldiers had fought their way from Gona across the great Owen Stanley range and were actually on level ground and within 30 odd miles of Port Moresby. Then General MacArthur assumed the offensive,

CROSS-CHANNEL ARTILLERY DUEL

Shells From Big Guns Land In Dover And Occasion Same Damage

(International News Service)

LONDON, Dec. 11—British and German artillery batteries engaged today in a heated cross-channel duel.

A number of casualties were reported from the vicinity of Dover where shells from Nazi big guns on the French coast camaged homes and shops. The Daily Express said that one person was killed and a number wounded.

The morning bombardment followed an earlier exchange of artillery fire during the night. Both duels were opened by the British.

The first barrage during the night resulted in a heavy and continuous cross-bombardment which lasted for an hour and 15 minutes. The British guns again opened fire at 1 a. m.

German batteries in the Cape Griz-Nez area returned the fire of the long-range British guns. This shelling continued intermittently until 2 a. m., with the British batteries hurling far more shells across the channel than the German batteries.

The cross-channel firing was the first action of the kind in nearly a month.

Hitler Appoints New Staff Chief

See Evidence Hitler Has Broken With Most Of His Military Leaders

(International News Service)

LONDON, Dec. 11.—Increasing evidence that Adolf Hitler has broken not only with old-line Prussian military leadership but with many of the militarists he himself raised from obscurity, was seen today in appointment of Col. Gen. Kurt Zeitzler, one of Heinrich Himmler's "gangsters", as new chief of the German general staff.

Most of Hitler's recent military appointments have been representatives of the Prussian "old guard" such as Field Marshal Walther Von Brauchitsch, replaced by out-and-out loyal Nazis.

But in this case Zeitzler replaces one of Hitler's own pets, Gen. Franz Halder, long despised by the Junker generals for his lack of aristocratic military training and his willingness since the "beer hall" days to function as nothing more or less than "yes-man" to the Fuehrer.

Jap Garrison Remnants At Buna Doomed

Forced Back Onto Thin Strip Of Beach In Southeast New Guinea

FIGHTING LIKE CORNERED RATS

Must Be Exterminated One By One—Have Fortified Lines Of Machine Guns

By PAT ROBINSON
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, Dec. 11.—The remnants of the Japanese garrisons on the southeast New Guinea coast are doomed and they know it. They are fighting like cornered rats and must be killed one by one.

And that is exactly what the American and Australian jungle fighters are doing.

The Japanese have been forced on a thin fringe of beach and coastal jungle around Buna, but they are strongly entrenched. Encircling the village stronghold is an almost solid line of machine gun and mortar positions, which have to be cleared out one at a time.

The enemy has been too hard pressed to bury its dead, and the stench of the decomposing bodies is almost unbearable. The ruthless, hardboiled Japanese have donned gas masks and obviously are determined to fight to the last man.

But the Yanks and Aussies are

Youths Now 18 Begin To Register

New Enrollments By Draft Boards

January Draft Calls To Be Largely Made Up Of 18-19 Year Olds

REGISTRATION TO EXTEND THREE WEEKS

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 11.—Local draft boards today began to register the first of approximately 42,000 youths in Pennsylvania who have become 18 since June 30 in the sixth national selective service registration. The enrollment will continue until the end of the year.

After January 1, all youths must automatically register with their local board upon reaching their 18th birthday. An estimated 7,000 will reach 18 each month in Pennsylvania. The new registrants will receive gray draft cards.

Many of the youths who will register this month will be inducted into service in January in an effort to forestall the induction of married men, according to acting state selective service director Benjamin F. Evans. "It is expected that the January call will be made up largely of youths in the 18 and 19 year age group," he said.

Periods Specified

Gov. Arthur H. James, in his proclamation of December 2, specified that the youths must register with their local boards between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. during specified periods this month. The registration will be divided into three periods, as follows:

1. The week ending Dec. 17 for those born during July and August of 1924.

2. The week ending Dec. 24 for those born during September and October of 1924.

3. The week beginning Dec. 26 and ending Dec. 31 for those born during November and December of 1924.

Those born on or after January 1, 1925 must register on the day they attain their 18th birthday. If the birthday falls on a Sunday or a legal holiday, they must register on the following day.

City Men Go To Erie This Morning

Examination of men from City Board One is being conducted by the Erie Induction Center today and tomorrow, two large groups being scheduled to take their final physical examinations at this time.

Men from City Board Two will go to Erie for their examinations on December 14, 15 and 16.

All those accepted will be granted a week's furloughs in which time they are expected to arrange their affairs and be prepared to begin their army duties at the expiration of that time.

and dislodged the Germans from their positions. Several Nazi counter-attacks were repelled.

On the southern outskirts the Red army advanced after overcoming German resistance and further on, to the southwest, a strong enemy counter-attack was beaten off.

Particularly heavy losses were suffered by the Germans in the area of Velikie Luki, on the central front 100 miles from the old Latvian border, when the Russians repulsed a counter-attack there.

West of Rzhev a German nest of resistance was captured, the high command said in its noon communique, while other Soviet forces on the central front consolidtaed newly won positions.

3,500 Nazi Dead

An earlier high command announcement added an additional 3,500 Nazi dead to the toll of German casualties in the twin Red army offensives.

In the 24 hoursup to last midnight, it was stated officially, the Soviets forged ahead or successfully beat off German counter-thrusts on all but one sector of both fronts.

The communique, without revealing the precise location, said that Nazi infantry, attacking behind a force of 60 tanks, succeeded in making a slight advance in a counter-blow somewhere on the central front west of the Soviet capital. It was added, however, that the Russians frustrated attempts by the Nazis to develop their success and that the Germans suffered great losses in men.

The engagement also cost the Germans 42 tanks, which were burned out, while 11 Nazi airplanes were destroyed.

Heavy fighting continued inside and on the outskirts of the beleaguered city of Stalingrad. In the northern factor area the Russians invested numerous German strongholds and destroyed blockhouses and pillboxes, the communique said.

night bombardment of the Tebourba area but the assault was ineffective.

The Nazis were reported to be carrying out daring thrusts forward of the First Army's exposed right flank. Patrols were said to have appeared from the direction of Massicault which overlooks the Mejerda river and the road to Medjez-El-Bab, 30 miles west of Tunis.

Enemy Snipers Active

Enemy snipers, followed by machine-gunners, were said to have gained positions along the river road where they are constantly taking potshots at Lieut. Gen. Kenneth A. N. Anderson's forces and transport columns moving up to the rear of Tebourba.

In one bold attempt the Nazis were reported to have crossed the Mejerda river and mined the road.

International News Service Staff Correspondent Robert G. Nixon said in a dispatch from Allied headquarters in North Africa that German gliders were transporting small bodies of Germans westward from Sousse, Sfax and Gabes on the Tunisian coast. The glider troops, he said, were sent in apparently to counter the operations of American parachutists under command of Col. Edson Raff of New York.

Allied aircraft meanwhile bombed small enemy column caught moving along roadways in the southern sector.

The Tebourba battle area remained covered with mud from constant rains and hampered ground operations. Large sections of the terrain remained impassable and the unfavorable weather tended to cut air activity.

A report by the Morocco radio, which has no authoritative status, reported what it said was a French communique stating that Allied offensive and reconnaissance moves were continuing west of Kairwan according to plan. Kairman is 35 miles west of the Port of Sousse.

portion of Japan's carrier fleet in those battles, naval sources believe firmly that the Japs lost their "first team," and that the enemy will be unable to catch up with America's plane construction and pilot training programs.

Air Support Short?

The result has been that the Japanese garrisons in New Guinea, Guadalcanal and the Aleutians now face annihilation because the enemy is unable to give them adequate air support.

Although Japan still is believed to have formidable air reserves, war analysts assert that these are now spread over wide areas throughout the Pacific to protect vital bases and Japan itself.

Just how one-sided the Pacific air conflict has become is disclosed by official communiques which show that in the southern Solomons alone American pilots have destroyed more than 625 planes.

In the Aleutions, U. S. Army fliers based in the Andreanof Islands have been able to bomb the Jap garrisons on Kiska and Attu without encountering air opposition.

Revelation by the recruiting officers of the city that over 1,700 young men enlisted in the three branches of the service at the stations here since Pearl Harbor, and the knowledge that hundreds were drafted from the city and county during the same period, gives some idea of the huge representation that the city and county have in the armed service of the nation at the present time.

Christmas is important this year, even if it isn't, and shouldn't be, an elaborate one. A little gadget made by yourself, or a little jar of coffee, out of your own precious ration, are gifts for remembering old friends, if you think you are hard-pressed this year.

We have heard some talk about what's-the-use-of-Christmas - with - the-boys-away. Do you think the boys would approve our hanging crepe instead of holly on the door if they were home? It is up to us to carry on the traditions they expect to be here still when they get home.

Saturday will probably be a big shopping day in this city. Persons who intend to use the busses for their shopping trips should seek to schedule them between 9 and 3:30 o'clock. All persons cannot ride the busses at the same time, and shoppers should schedule their trips to avoid the greatest rush hours.

to the besieging ground troops carried out relentless sweeps over the battle area.

Australian forces which captured Gona, many of them veterans of the campaign in Malaya, began advancing southward along the coast toward Cape Killerton, six miles above Buna, after concluding mopping-up operations in the Gona area.

With the additional pressure that can be thrown against the Japs at Buna by forces released through successful occupation of Guba, the allies were expected to let loose shortly with a knockout blow against Buna to annihilate the encircled garrison or drive the Japs into the sea.

Elimination of Buna will rid the whole Papua territory of enemy forces and enable the allies to concentrate their efforts on reducing the twin bases of Lae and Salamaua held by the Japs in northeast New Guinea.

The frustrated Jap counter-attack took the form of a dual thrust against the besieging Americans and Aussies from Buna village and Buna mission.

Artillery and machine-gun fire cut down the Japs in waves as they attempted to advance from behind strong pillbox defenses. No figures were given but large numbers were reported killed.

day afternoon by two columns of enemy tanks supported by infantry.

"One column came down from the north along the west bank of the Medjerda river. Our forces counter-tatacked immediately and destroyed a number of enemy tanks.

"The other column, advancing from the east, came within 2,000 yards of Medjez El Bab, but withdrew when engaged by our artillery and fighter aircraft, which destroyed several tanks.

"French forces, including infantry and artillery, participated in this action. We lost a few tanks. Enemy losses were considerably higher.

In other forward areas, our forces carried out offensive patrols."

HONOR SELECTIVE SERVICE BOARDS

sided and introduced Adjutant Charles E. Allen as toastmaster. Judge W. Walter Braham, past commander of the post, was the principal speaker. The invocation was given by William V. Brooks.

Judge Braham told how the local boards were set up following the passage of the selective service law in September 1940, the three men on each of the local boards being appointed by a board consisting of the two judges and the three county commissioners.

That these men have faithfully performed their difficult assignment is evidenced by the few complaints which have come to the appointing board, Judge Braham stated.

Additional guests at the dinner included Judge John G. Lamoree and County Commissioners William R. Walton, George Bolinger and Joseph F. Travers.

Expresses Appreciation

District Deputy Commander J. Ralph Little expressed the appreciation of the Department of Pennsylvania for the fine work of the draft boards. He is chief clerk of County Board One at Ellwood City.

Those honored on the occasion were: Ches C. Sweesy and Attorney H. A. Wilkison of Local Board One of the city; Harry H. Davies, James A. Yates, and Attorney Charles V. Ross of Local Board Two of the city; William L. Dean, D. Edward Cain, and C. L. Brenneman of County Board One, and Attorney Raymond W. Humphrey, attorney of the appeal board of County Board One; District Commander Little, the two judges, and county commissioners.

In an impromptu discussion of the two years of their work, the different members of the board related a number of incidents, some humorous and some serious, and the officers of the post were given a clearer insight into the workings of the draft machinery, which has built up an army of over four million men in the last two years.

The guests joined in expressing their appreciation of the recognition given them by the Perry S. Gaston Post.

The evacuation of Turin, which also was attacked on Tuesday, was said to be "complete". Even air raid precaution workers got out, it was added.

LONDON, Dec. 11.—A Reuter dispatch from Moscow reported today that Adolf Hitler is sounding out Hungary, Bulgaria and Romania regarding their attitude in event of Italy's withdrawal from the war.

LONDON, Dec. 11.—The whole district of Zandvoort, a once popular resort of Holland"s "invasion coast," is to be evacuated by order of German authorities, Reuter reported from the German frontier today.

JOHN CARLIN SCORES ON CONCERT PROGRAM

John Carlin, of this city, 17 year old talented pianist and already acclaimed a genius, soared to new heights Thursday evening, December 10, when he appeared as one of two guests artists in a concert series of the Youngstown Symphony Orchestra, at Stambaugh auditorium in Youngstown, O. Many were present from the immediate vicinity.

Before an audience of more than seventeen hundred guests, Carlin played for the first time in Youngstown, most masterfully, MacDowells (first movement) Concerto No. 2 in D Minor, for piano and orchestra. Carlin, winner of the piano section of the Young Artists Prevue sponsored by the Women's Committee of the Youngstown Symphony Society, is an expressive player, with a fine feeling for innate musicale values. His technical ability fulfills the demands, and his playing style, is assured. He is definitely endowed with that rare spark of genius, and has a profound understanding that is superb. Carlin plays with feeling and carries his audience through his numbers, literally spellbound.

Also a winner of the recent prevue, Miss Jessica Brazil, 23 year old soprano of Akron, was heard, who delighted with her lovely number, "Verdi" from "La Forza del Destino."

Both guest artists answered several encores.

At the close, Mr. Carlin's teacher, Mrs. Mary E. Fankhauser of New Castle and Youngstown, O., was hostess at the Tod House, at a formal reception, honoring Mr. Carlin. Special guests included Michael Fiocelli, director of the Youngstown Symphony Orchestra, his wife and guests, Mrs. Grace Shaw Wilson, who delighted with several lovely soprano solos and others.

Carlin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Carlin of Greenwood avenue, New Castle.

OPERA AS DRAMATIC FORM IS FORUM TOPIC

The Drama Forum had an exceptionally outstanding program on Thursday, December 10, when Mrs. Alvah Shumaker of Englewood avenue, hostess for the meeting, presented Miss Barbara Shulz, who spoke on "Opera as a Dramatic Form."

From a rich musical background, Miss Shulz told of the origin of the opera and justified it as a dramatic form. "The drama is put upon the stage and in order that its situations and its meaning may be more fully expended, music is called in to elucidate, to express and to beautify."

She spoke of the rise of the three schools of opera from the popular dramatic forms of the day: Italian opera grew out of an effort to recreate the music of ancient Greek tragedies; the French opera from the ballet, and the German from the "Singspiel," or song-play.

Miss Shulz then took her listeners on an imaginary visit to the opera, presenting recordings made by stars of the Metropolitan Opera company, with outstanding arias from the opera, "The Barber of Seville." She interspersed this presentation with a graphic description of setting, plot, and the elaborate costumes.

On February 11, Mrs. S. D. Pearson, East Moody avenue, will be hostess to the Drama Forum, at which time Mrs. Pearson Furst will review the popular comedy, "Claudia."

At the close of the entertainment the hostess served a tasty collation with Mrs. Nelson and Mrs. William Scott aiding.

Sue Harvard Magnificent In Benefit Concert For B. A.

One of the cultural highlights of the past year, was the concert enjoyed Thursday evening, given in the First Christian church before an overflowing audience of a thousand, when tribute was paid Sue Harvard, New Castle's famed lyric soprano, in a sacred song recital given for the benefit of Bundles for America, Inc.

Formerly with the Metropolitan Opera, the artist sang with majestic solemnity, intense feeling, with crystal clearness and rhythmic cadence, her group of favorite hymnals and patriotic numbers, typical of all churches.

The distinguished artist, known in private life as Mrs. Herbert Newton Armstrong, looked angelic wearing a maroon choir investment as she stood before the chancel. The perfect accompaniments of Mrs. Kathryn Nessle Allen, were noted throughout the concert.

Although born with the gift of song, success has been achieved only after overcoming many obstacles. The emotional penetration and spiritual appeal of her singing, are attributed by Miss Harvard through her consciousness that she "has a message." It was so utterly beautiful and so deeply moving, that only a churl or pedant could dream of finding fault with her superb performance last evening. There was a calm, still understanding between the singer and the audience, exercising a fascination upon both.

No finer tribute could have been paid the returned artist than the reverence and silence with which the spellbound audience gave, in return to her never-to-be-forgotten salute to New Castle, with her program last evening. There was an uplifting spirit for all who came to hear her message. She sang magnificently with emotional feeling and religious interpretation. Her phrasing and diction were flawless.

In addition to the announced program, was a request hymn, written by a New Castle man, the late Ira Sankey, entitled "The Ninety-And-Nine." The audience also joined in with the prominent artist, in several of the numbers.

The mystery of music, the ally of religion, was interpreted by Dr. J. J. McIlvaine, who spoke of the patriotic purpose of the Bundles of America, Inc. "To be under the spell of music, to catch its magic, is to recognize its power and dynamic force to heal and to soothe," he stated.

Dr. G. S. Bennett praised the efforts of the work done by the local Bundles for America, Inc., and its two fold purpose: (1) That of reclaiming of clothing. (2) To equip recreation rooms in army camps. He commended the local organization under the leadership of its president and organizer, Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson, and her co-workers. They now have plenty in store, in case of an emergency.

Most recently, Mrs. Johnson received a letter from the Transfer Pa., headquarters, asking for furniture for the numerous recreation rooms that will soon be used by several thousand men in U. S. Service. The Government provides the rooms, but it is up to the civilians to furnish them.

Appreciation was expressed to Sue Harvard and her accompanist, Mrs. Allen, and the audience, by Mrs. Johnson for their help in the cause.

Dr. S. E. Irvine gave the invocation, and the benediction was offered by Rev. V. V. Stancelewski.

A silver offering was taken up at the close, with a goodly sum being realized for the benefit of Bundles for America, Inc., of which not one penny will be wasted.

NEW SHIPS ANSWER AXIS BOASTS

EVERY mighty splash as the aircraft carriers Belleau Wood and Bunker Hill, the cruiser Miami, the giant battleship New Jersey and eight other warships slid down the ways during the last few days, was an answer to the crackling boasts of Jap naval Captain Hiraide, who celebrated the Pearl Harbor treachery by broadcasting from Tokio claims of new battleships, carriers and other additions to the Nipponese fleet.

Our growing naval output is the best answer to the still menacing threat of Japanese naval power. At the same time, we shouldn't overlook the increase of naval strength gained by the Axis in some French ships at Toulon which, it turns out, were not sunk along with the rest.

Launching of the New Jersey, largest battleship ever built, was an occasion for Undersecretary of the Navy Forrestal to report substantial progress in the two-ocean Navy program. That, it should be remembered, began only on July 1, 1940. In the succeeding two years and six months, Mr. Forrestal said, 66 individual fighting ships, aggregating 333,751 tons, have been added to our naval forces. This includes a number of new, modern 35,000-ton battleships.

A most notable feature in the case of almost every one of the combat vessels Mr. Forrestal mentioned has been the speed of construction, far ahead of former time schedules or possibilities. That is highlighted by the fact that the New Jersey, displacing upward of 52,000 tons, had her keel laid Sept. 16, 1940. If the undersecretary's forecast that the New Jersey will be in commission within five months is realized, then this huge battleship will have been completed a year ahead of schedule.

Many of the ships badly damaged or lost at Pearl Harbor were old. Some had never been modernized. Mr. Forrestal's statement means that we are getting a really modern navy and getting it rapidly, though there is a huge job to be done before it will be capable of striking—as it must—throughout the world for victory on the sea and freedom everywhere.

WRITING THE PEACE

There has been a great deal of talk of late about how we are going to settle the peace problems after hostilities are ended. This is only natural. We all remember how things turned out after the first world war was over. There is no question that the American people along with President Wilson had high ideals. But unfortunately it developed that our associates had made secret understandings while the war was on and these understandings did not coincide with our ideals. As a result there was great unrest in Europe and disappointment in the United States. Therefore our people hope now that these mistakes will not be repeated.

At the time we are entering into these discussions it must be remembered that we still have a war to fight and a victory to win. True the situation looks a great deal better than it did a few months ago. Yet we don't want to spend too much time talking about how we will cook the hare until we have caught it. This will not only divert some of our attention from carrying on the war but will endanger a misunderstanding and coolness among some of the United Nations before hostilities are concluded.

Perhaps it would be well for Americans to remember that while high ideals have been expressed by leaders of the various nations as to what principles will be followed in making the peace, human nature has not changed. When the war is over national needs and national jealousies will arise again. When men are confronted with a common danger they have no time to quarrel. It is only after the time comes for assessing the damages they are apt to fall out.

Already there have been some faint evidences of coming disagreements. The case of France is an example. There are undoubtedly some deep cleavages in the French nation, Laval, Darlan, General De Gaulle are still working at cross purposes. Laval will undoubtedly be eliminated before the peace conference but there will still be differences of opinion and political jealousies.

There are some other possibilities for future misunderstanding. Premier Churchill says that when the war is over the Axis nations must be disarmed and made incapable of fomenting future trouble. This seems very reasonable to us. Yet Premier Stalin has said that Russia is fighting the Nazi leaders and will not seek to disarm the German nation after the war is over. Perhaps he visualizes a new kind of German government which will be Communist in sympathies. The settlement of territorial concessions in eastern Europe may be difficult, too.

All of this is looking a long way ahead. But the American people must consider human nature as well as lofty ideals, if they do not want to be disillusioned again. But first of all we must win the war. It is problem No. 1.

Poetic justice would be to mandate Italy to Ethiopia.

O. K. Jeffers, let's have that rubber, expresses the sentiment of motorists from coast to coast.

Secretary Wickard wants the farmers to work from dawn to dusk. And ignore the forty-hour week?

If Italians get a whiff of the food being served to the natives of North Africa, an embarkation resembling a new Dunkerque will take place on the Italian coast.

Farmers cannot plant over their AAA crop allotments without penalty. Now they are told they must plant at least 90 per cent of their allotments. They will at least know what it feels like to be in a straitjacket.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

WHEN A CHILD BITES HER NAILS

Nail-biting and other nervous habits among children were appallingly prevalent for several years before Pearl Harbor and inevitably they are increasing now.

A grandmother writes of a jittery girl 12 years old.

"Dear Dr. Myers: Our problem is a girl of 12, very intelligent, always ahead in her class at school, can play things she hears on the piano and took only two terms of music lessons. She is very nervous, biting her fingernails when not at work, or picking at herself. She keeps little scabs all over her arms and legs or face.

"We talked, bribed, persuaded but no results.

"She is a very loving child, thinks lots of her mother and home, stays by her mother, and won't let her go out of her sight. She has a brother 9 and sister 6. This girl is the best worker I have ever seen, always doing everything her mother does, cooking meals, etc. If there is anything to do she is ready to do it. If you can help us we will be ever so thankful. An sending self-addressed stamped envelope for reply."

Doctor's Reply

My reply was addressed to the mother, including the following:

Do have that child carefully and thoroughly examined by the family doctor who in turn may refer you to a skin specialist. I hope also the doctor advises you concerning the girl's diet. Be sure she gets ample sleep, even more than the average child her age, and plenty of quiet recreation, as in making things with her hands for fun or some reading.

Try to have a good time in the family circle and to bring her out as an important part of it. Encourage her to talk and see that the younger ones let her have the opportunity to do so. Get her to help you in the household planning. Now and then go alone with her shopping. The younger children can have this privilege later. Get your friends to help build this girl up so she feels sure she stands as well with them and her family as the younger children do.

Needs Playmates

She needs playmates of her own age and to get away from you more and you away from her. Set the stage so some girls her age will come to your home and she will go to theirs. When her friends come, see that the younger children mind their own business, do not stoop or tag along. They also should have playmates of their own age so they will bother her less.

Don't scold this child or nag her about her nervous habits, since that would only make her worse. Trust that they will decrease gradually as she grows more serene, but do not look for quick results. Be happy if you see some improvement after a few weeks.

I am enclosing my special bulletin on "Jealousy," also the one on "Nail-Biting and Other Nervous Habits," made available to any other reader without cost who will write me at 235 East 45th street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. Do you have some charts or tests which a parent can use to find the I. Q. of a child under five or six?

A. No; nobody has such tests. Only a psychologist can ascertain the I. Q. of a child, and even he can make mistakes at it. I do have charts which will aid you to find out roughly the degree of development of your child, to be had by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it. Indicate the exact age of your child.

A very short session of the Pennsylvania legislature is predicted in January. The shorter the better.

One reason there is so much humor in this world is because there are so many persons who take themselves seriously.

Conditions in this country are serious to the people who care.

And yet, on the other hand, economy has killed as many growing businesses as it has helped.

Money cannot buy happiness but you can at least be unhappy in comfort.

If the war is not over by next summer the boys and girls in this country will have to help the farmers produce what is needed. The boys and girls who were raised on farms will know what that means.

In spite of rationing, the world's output of sugar far exceeds the output of vinegar.

The story started with Adam, you know, the legend that any man has one fewer ribs than a woman, but we never knew until we saw this WPB umbrella restriction, that "At present many women's umbrellas have as many as 16 ribs," and that they are restricted to 10 ribs while men's umbrellas are limited to eight ribs.

Well, judging from news reports, the bandit business seems to be holding up.

Attending to the business of others is a good way to lose your own.

Good Taste

Reg. U. S. Patent Office

WHAT IS GOOD TASTE?

The great English poet, Lord Greville, more than three centuries ago compared good taste with "that exquisite sense of the bee which instantly discovers and extracts the quintessence of every flower and disregards the rest of it."

As we study others, we can readily measure their development of this sense by their selection of magazines at newstands, of books at libraries, of broadcasts on radio dials, of hats, clothes, shoes perfume, cosmetics, nail polish, hair-dos, homes, furniture lamps, rugs, wallpaper, curtains, shrubbery. And we can gauge it by the readiness by which they "disregard the rest of it."

You display your sense of good taste or lack of it, by your conversation, your clothes, your home decoration and your general behavior.

Question: Is it proper for a bride to hold her wedding breakfast at the home of one of the bridesmaids?—B. T. B.

Answer: While it is correct for a bride to have her wedding reception at the home of her friends, she should preferably have it in her own home if she has one.

Question: Are postscripts incorrect in a letter?—Kitty.

Answer: No. They are not incorrect, but they should be avoided if possible. Do not allow yourself to develop the postscript habit.

Question: What should be placed on a small living room coffee table?—P. T.

Answer: A low vase of floors or a compote or a bonbon dish or possibly a cigarette case and a set of ash trays.

Tomorrow—Tipping the Hat.

TODAY'S STORYETTE

"It's surprising," said the professor to his wife at breakfast, "to think how ignorant we all are. Nearly every man is a specialist in his own particular line, and in consequence we are all as narrow minded, as it is possible for us to be."

"Yes, dear," said his wife.

"I, for instance," he continued, "am ashamed of my failure to keep abreast of modern science. Take the electric light, for example, I haven't the least idea how it works."

His wife gave him a patronizing look and smiled.

"Why, Herbert, I'm ashamed of you. It's so simple! You simply press a switch, that's all!"

Many a man has climbed to great heights by remaining on the level.

OLD STEAK STORY

And that makes us think of another old, old story. A customer was busy sawing on the steak he had ordered—and a difficult time he was having.

"It's tough?" queried the waiter solicitously.

The customer was exhausted. He turned to the waiter with defeat in his eyes and said:

"When I order beef and get horse, I don't care. But the next time take the harness off before you start serving."

When you buy war bonds you are helping yourself. Buying them might save your life—and that's sumpin!

A very particular housekeeper was having her bedroom painted. Wishing to learn what progress the painter was making, she crept to the bottom of the stairs and listened. Not a sound reached her ears. She said—"Painter, are you working?"

Painter—Yes, ma'am.

She—I can't hear you making a sound.

Painter—I ain't putting it on with a hammer, lady.

The Axis agent had been ordered to report to the Fuehrer on conditions in the United States. He made an extensive survey and then went down to the seashore where he wigwagged this report to a lurking submarine:

What's What At A Glance

Policing Of Beaten Nations Will Be Task
Will Correct Mistakes Of Past This Time
Manufacturers Discuss Situation Recently

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—United Nations statesmanship is not making the big mistake today that the Allies' leaders made during and for quite a while following the last war.

That mistake lay in the assumption that licking the then enemy permanently ended outlawed rulerships' attempts at world sand-baggery and slaughter. Past history ought to have taught students that a war can be fought in a succession of chapters, with pretty long pauses between 'em, like the celebrated 30-year conflict in Europe. The trouble with that incident was that it occurred so long ago (away back in the Middle Ages) that it had been forgotten, for practical current consideration by our generation's strategists.

Nineteen eighteen isn't so remote but that it's recalled at present.

Kaiser Wilhelm having been squelched, it was taken for granted that Germany was no further danger. Japan, in that era, wasn't an Occidental consideration. Italy's civilized yet, but for Benito Mussolini.

Accordingly, the Germans having capitulated, the 1918 supposition was that mundane relationships had regulated themselves, to STAY so.

Now it's recognized that things have got to be policed indefinitely.

How to do it, though, is a good bit of a puzzle.

Limited Co-operation

The proposition would be simple enough, if all peoples would co-operate, but how's a country like Germany to be trusted to do its honest, disinterested share of policing! And yet, what IS going to be done with it? It can't be exterminated. Even Japan can't be. As to Italy, putting Duce Mussolini in a bughouse will be insufficient.

Okay! What's the program?

It doesn't seem practical to incorporate the democracies' military forces into an international lineup, inclusive of all the rest of 'em.

The Italians'll remain respectable and law-abiding. That's agreed.

The Japs, while their existing military class survives, unquestionably will have to be policed everlastingly, similarly to any other gang of thugs and assassins.

What, then, can be promised toward capable world-policing, from this war's end on into another 1,000,000 years or so?

Germany isn't to be relied on, for as much as a couple or three decades.

Italy, however good its intentions, is inefficient.

The Japs (with a nice population personally) are run by a government it's impossible to deal with.

Having licked these folk, how KEEP 'em so?

The subject was much discussed at the recent convention of the National Association of Manufacturers in New York City.

The idea was compacted very efficiently in a speech by Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota. Harold wants an international police force, but he doesn't want Axis participation in it for the time being. It's to be, according to his reckoning, a United Nations outfit for some time to come.

In short, Germany's to be on probation for a considerable spell.

Italy's reform will be accepted with hesitancy.

WASHINGTON—Elmer Davis, director of the Office of War Information: "Things are going to pieces inside Italy, and there is no doubt that the great majority of the people are not enthusiastic about the war or their allies, but there is a great gap between that situation and revolt. We see no signs of a present revolt."

WASHINGTON—Major Gen. Fulgencio Batista, president of Cuba: "Cuba will always be ready to cooperate so that continental solidarity may be a perpetual reality without any doubts that may weaken our indispensible unity."

CLEVELAND—Francis B. Sayre, former high commissioner to the Philippines: "A Christian peace demands the elimination of the old conception of balance of power, a conception premised upon each nation's self-sufficiency and utter unconcern with the welfare of other nations or humanity."

LOOKING AT LIFE

—By Erich Brandeis

The Teaneck, N. J., board of education is annoyed because too many teachers take too much time off to get married.

And in New York a 200-pound mother socked a teacher who had shoved her 12-year-old son.

(If it interests you, the pugilistic mother, who is a truck driver, has been held in $200 bail on an assault charge.)

I feel awfully sorry for teachers.

Theirs is, indeed, an unhappy lot.

Year after year the same thing, over and over again.

Living in a world of dead-and-gone, teaching many things in which they themselves do not believe.

Before them an unwilling audience of youngsters, to whom learning is but an unpleasant chore; to whom they must be living examples of goodness and dignity.

There used to be a time when the schoolmaster with his ruler was a little monarch in his little kingdom.

But today he is circumscribed by school boards and modern parents, who think it's "modern" to spare the rod and spoil the child.

My hearty applause goes out to the Cincinnati board of education which has ruled that a teacher has a right to paddle pupils if, in his or her judgment, they so deserve.

Children, as we all know, or should know, are tyrants. Let them have all the love of which mothers and fathers are capable.

But mothers and fathers are biased. You and I know many parents who rave about their children, who tell you what wonderful creatures they are, that there are no others like them in the world.

Then when you meet the precious darlings, what are they? Just a pain in the neck!

Unfortunately, life is pretty cruel. There's not much joy ahead for spoiled children.

The teacher can—and should—give the child a foretaste of the world to come.

It is far better that the young should learn the meaning of authority from the teacher than from the policeman or the judge.

The World and the Mud Puddles

The great wealth of these United States has been acquired because this nation has been, up to the era of the New Dealers, a Capitalistic nation. Every young man living in the United States has heretofore had a great incentive to accomplish something for himself and his family in life. If he went to work as a day laborer in a Steel Plant or a railroad, or any other great enterprise, by giving his whole and undivided attention to his work, he believed that some day he might be President of the concern for which he worked or some other concern of a like nature. There was not only an ambition to obtain position, but to obtain more money.

The history of these United States has shown that many such young men have attained their ambition and in attaining it have added tremendously to the wealth of all those working in their line of business—to thousands and ten thousands of such workers and their efforts have likewise added to the wealth of the nation. If it were not for such men with such ambitions, we would be today an easy prey for all the Axis forces. We would not have anything with which to fight. Such men have given millions for the building of hospitals, of colleges and universities, of museums and galleries of art, as well as to funds for the relief of unfortunate fellow citizens.

Now, if the purposes of the New Dealers are carried into execution, not only during the conduct of this war, but thereafter, there won't be any Capital left. The present generation of young men will be deprived entirely of ambition to acquire anything but a job in a government office. There will be no incentive to acquire wealth, and, consequently, no incentive to improve any line of business—manufacturing, railroading or general merchandising. There will be no incentive to invent new processes. In other words, in the future there will be no Fords, no Duponts, no Rockefellers, no Carnegies, no Mellons, none of the type of men who have made it their business to assist this nation to become the richest nation on the face of the earth. This nation would be faced with government ownership, government control—a dictatorship, communism, whatever you may call it, and such a condition would mean that the nation would become poorer and poorer, for no one can possibly conceive of any government office holder conducting any business efficiently and successfully.

This picture is not a pleasing one.

The Man From Missouri spent his boyhood "down south." He has some rich old gags. He told us about a mistress who asked: "Is your daughter happily married, Verbena?"

"Yassum," replied Verbena, "She's done got herself a husband who is scared to death of her."

'Victory Loan' Industrial Group Talks Role In $5,400,000 Effort

Industrial leaders of New Castle met in The Castleton yesterday with M. V. Hyde, chairman of the industrial committee of the Victory Fund campaign, to consider methods by which the industries can assist in the accomplishment of the county's $5,400,000 December goal.

Speakers included Judge W. Walter Braham, Joel S. McKee, Roger W. Rowland, and Patrick J. Flaherty, all of whom stressed the urgency of the campaign and voiced their confidence in the successful achievement of the quota.

It was decided at the conference to put particular effort on building up the present payroll savings plan to conform to the national goal of a 10 percent allotment by every employee for War bonds. Many local workers are already investing in excess of this amount, and it was felt that proper emphasis would greatly increase the number subscribing 10 percent.

The sale of "tax anticipation notes" was also advocated, and the group suggested publicizing income tax returns to point out to workers the desirability of purchasing "tax anticipation notes" as a means of meeting income tax payments next year.

The Victory Loan quota for December includes all types of government securities, but industrial leaders felt that the payroll savings bonds and the "tax anticipation notes" should be of particular interest to workers.

Anyway, we'll require a large army, according to Gen. George C. Marshall.

The dope is that the Japs won't collapse, whatever happens to the Nazis.

There's a distinction between their rulerships and their people.

Indeed, their rulership may not collapse when the Japs do, nationally.

This doesn't mean that the Mikado-ship won't quit and end it all. We may have a war with Japan for quite a while after we've disposed of Herr Hitler.

And, after it's nominally ended, will it STAY ended?

The efficacy of that policing process remains to be tested.

The next generation'll know.

It'll be interesting to watch 'em in the 1950's or so.

A hive or colony of bees is at its maximum population during the time of storing surplus honey. At that time the average colony, roughly estimated, contains between 50,000 and 75,000 workers, one queen, and a few hundred to a thousand drones. These bees weigh from ten to 15 pounds.

EPIDEMIC CLAIMS LIVES OF SIX BABIES AT STEUBENVILLE

(International News Service)

STEUBENVILLE, O., Dec. 11.—An epidemic of an intestinal disease which has claimed the lives of six new born infants today resulted in the closing of the maternity department of the Ohio Valley hospital here.

Along with the closing, authorities warned that the disease, which is of the influenza type, is prevalent throughout the community and that all precautions should be taken.

At the hospital, all infants have been removed to new and isolated quarters and all young people have been barred from the institution. Steps were taken to close the maternity ward following a conference between city and state health authorities and the hospital staff.

State Superior Court Upholds Local Action

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 11—The State Superior Court today affirmed the conviction and sentence of Oliver A. McConaghy, of New Castle, on charges of driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor and manslaughter.

In December, 1941, McConaghy struck Archie C. Johnson, 71, while the latter was crossing the street in New Castle. Johnson died about two hours later from his injuries.

McConaghy denied that he was intoxicated at the time although admitting that he had been at the "Pines", a drinking place near New Castle, for two and one half hours previous to the accident.

Judge Thomas J. Baldrige of the higher court dismisses McConaghy's contention that the trial judge in charging the jury unduly stressed the commonwealth's evidence. McConaghy, who has been at liberty under bail pending the outcome of his appeal to the higher court is ordered to appear in the court below so the sentence imposed upon him can be carried out.

Scrap Record In County To Be Rewarded

Achievement Flag To Be Presented In Ceremonies On December 17

Lawrence county's outstanding scrap collection record in the October drive, about 35,000 tons, will receive official recognition Thursday afternoon, December 17, when the achievement flag will be awarded by a representative of the state government. A program fitting the occasion has been arranged for the presentation by Ross D. Rosenberger, county salvage chairman. The ceremony will take place in the senior high school.

The presentation will occur at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon with County Commissioner William R. Walton, general chairman of the Lawrence County Council of Defense, as general chairman of the day. Louis B. Round, executive director of the council, will serve as platform chairman of the meeting.

Program Detail

The meeting will open with the crowd singing "America". The senior high school band under Joe F. Replogle will provide the music and Robert A. Duff will direct the singing. The invocation will be asked by Dr. R. F. Galbreath, president of Westminster college.

Who will represent the state for the presentation is not known as yet. The speaker of the day will be some citizen of Ellwood City, to be announced later by R. J. Schill, chairman of the Ellwood City delegation at the presentation. Ending the program the crowd will sing the Star Spangled Banner and Rev. F. R. McCarter, pastor of St. Mary's church, will deliver the benediction.

All organizations that aided in the scrap collection are invited to attend the ceremony. This includes such organizations as the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Junior Commandos, D. A. R., Bundles for America, Red Cross, Red Cross Motor Corps, Citizens Service Corps, Future Farmers of America and the like.

Seated upon the stage will be the county commissioners, mayor and city council, burgess and boro council of Ellwood City, all burgesses of the county, committee heads of the drive.

The flag is similar to ones being presented to other counties of the state. The flag means that the county getting it turned in 100 or more pounds of metal and rubber scrap during the drive. Once accepted the flag will be hoisted to a place directly under the American flag upon the court house flag pole.

Youths Falsify Age In Draft Register

Some 16, 17-Year-Olds Patriotic, Others Merely Seek High-Pay Jobs

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 11 — Hundreds of 16 and 17 year-old Philadelphia boys have registered for the draft, giving their ages as 18 and 19, local draft boards discovered recently.

Some of the youths acted out of patriotism, an investigation revealed, while others falsified their age to obtain highly-paid jobs in war industries, producing draft cards to prove their age.

More than 250 mothers have called at the local boards, armed with birth certificates and school records, to prove their sons were not yet old enough for induction.

Use Of Seniors Is Only War Measure

College Seniors Replacing Teachers Is Opposed To Current Teaching Trend

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 11 — The practice of hiring college seniors to replace vacancies left by teachers who have joined the armed forces or taken war jobs is only a war-time measure, in the opinion of Dr. George E. Walk, dean of Temple university's teachers college.

"The trend in education circles is to increase rather than accelerate the course of study for students in teachers colleges," Walk declared.

A move is on foot, the president of the Pennsylvania State Education Association said, that will require a five-year course for teachers instead of the present four-year one, but it will not be pushed till after the war. Dr. Walk is also vice-president of the National Education Association.

Mrs. Roosevelt Asserts She Did Not Give Report

(International News Service)

FALL RIVER, Mass., Dec. 11.—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt insisted today that she could not possibly have given Mayor Fletcher T. Bowron of Los Angeles all the details of Pearl Harbor 48 hours after it happened.

"I could not possibly have given out any information because I didn't know any more than what I read in the papers."

Mrs. Roosevelt recalled having warned the mayor that "in general there might be a more serious situation than we know," but this, she asserted was said more to spur civilian defense preparations in the coast city.

"I never received any information except what I read in the newspapers, and I had no more idea than the man in the moon of the extent of the damage to our battleships and other ships at Pearl Harbor," she declared.

Advised that Mayor Bowron said in advance that he would not dispute any answer Mrs. Roosevelt might give to his statement, the First Lady commented: "I think that was very nice of him." The mayor said Mrs. Roosevelt had told him the full story of Pearl Harbor 48 hours later.

Head Of Large Oil Corporations Appeals For Gas

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 11.—Michael L. Benedum, who controls 30 big oil corporations, had an application pending before his local rationing board today for four extra gallons of gasoline a week.

When rationing began, Mike stored his big automobile and began using his small station wagon, figuring he could do it on an "A" card. He was wrong.

So today he's seeking a "B" card, citing the fact that he's engaged in getting out gasoline and fuel oil for the war effort.

Canada, Britain Unchain Prisoners

Switzerland's Proposal Still Gets No Response From German Government

(International News Service)

OTTAWA, Ont., Dec. 11—German prisoners of war held in Canada will be unshackled beginning tonight, Prime Minister W. Mackenzie King stated Thursday while asserting that he had been advised Britain would take similar steps in respect to those held in the United Kingdom.

Last August Germany shackled about 1,700 Canadian and British prisoners taken during the Dieppe raid and in reprisal an equivalent number of Nazi prisoners were fettered in Canada and the United Kingdom.

The unshackling of prisoners by Germany as well as Canada and Britain was proposed by Switzerland. So far no word has come from Germany and there were no indications what action Canada might take if the Nazis didn't unshackle those held within a reasonable time.

Relative Of Local Residents, Prisoner

Mr. and Mrs. John Peluso, of 1514 Highland avenue, have received word from relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Clement Conte, of Monongahela City, that the latter's son, Staff Sgt. Albert James Conte, a bombardier and engineer in the Army Air Corps, is a prisoner of war, somewhere in the western Europe area.

Mr. and Mrs. Conte were notified by the war department, yesterday, it being the only news, since November 18, when they received word that their son was reported missing.

Staff Sgt. Conte had many friends and relatives here, and is also well-known. Two other brothers, Lt. John Conte, is stationed at Kansas City, and Pvt. Conte, in Camp Pickett, Va.

(International News Service)

Seize Fourteen German Aliens

(International News Service)

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 11—In a sweep through 52 New Jersey communities, G-men have seized 14 German aliens, including one man who boasted a medal for being the best anti-tank gunner in a Nazi labor camp, E. J. Conroy, FBI Chief in New Jersey, announced today.

A large amount of contraband was confiscated. Names of those arrested were not disclosed but all were sent to Ellis Island to await internment hearings.

Conroy said the medal-holder had served in Hitler's army during 1935 and 1936.

YOUNG ARMY SERGEANT

(International News Service)

CARLISLE BARRACKS, Pa. — Those 18 and 19-year-old youths, who are earnestly thinking of enlisting in the cause of democracy but question their chances of advancement at that age, can find the answer in the record of Frank W. Yolshevic, Lyndora, Pa., youth, who at the age of 20 is a sergeant in the medical department.

Frank, liaison sergeant of Company B, 22nd Medical Battalion, enlisted in the army on January 3, 1941, at the age of 19, and in one year rose to the grade of sergeant.

LUCKY THIRTEEN

(International News Service)

WILMINGTON, Del. — Thirteen babies, six boys and seven girls, were delivered in Wilmington hospitals Friday, November the 13th.

AROUND CITY HALL

It would not be surprising were city council and officials of the Shenango Valley Transportation company to meet some of these days and decide a course of action looking toward the procurement of more buses. The company a year ago ordered two new buses. However, the company asserts that the government froze the buses and the only arrivals soon will be re-conditioned buses.

This is a peculiar situation. The government wants war workers to be on time and do their work faithfully, yet here, a war workers town, the bus facilities are inadequate. The company says the situation is not of its making. The council has asked for help. The defense transportation officials in Washington should take cognizance of the situation.

Even Soot Now War Salvage

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 11—America's war salvage effort is closely vying with the efficiency of Chicago meat packers, often credited with making use of "everything but the squeal."

The war production board disclosed today that some 18,100 pounds of soot has been scraped from American vessels putting into port in the past year. The dust yields vanadium oxide which is used to toughen steel for armor plate.

During 1939, Canada produced 25,439,000 pairs of leather footwear.

D.A.R. To Aid Fats Salvage Drive In Lawrence County

In view of the fact that the salvage of fats in Lawrence county has not kept pace with the excellent record for scrap metal collection in the county, the local organization of the Daughters of the American Revolution has worked out a plan by which it hopes to engage immediately 500 more homes in Lawrence county in the salvage of fats, and accelerate public interest in this aspect of the salvage program.

Fats are urgently needed in the manufacture of glycerine, an important ingredient in the modern explosives. And it is the salvage of fats which the Lawrence Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution is supporting, and is urging its friends and the public to cooperate.

The plan that has been worked out is that active members of Lawrence chapter have each agreed to secure the cooperation of ten housewives who will agree to save household fats regularly. Chapter officers estimate that by this means more than 500 homes in the county will be immediately engaged in this phase of the salvage program.

And it is believed by Lawrence County Salvage Committee members that as the attention of increasing number of housewives is drawn to the importance of saving their pan and broiler drippings and deep fats, soon every household will be enrolled in the program.

How To Salvage Fats

Instructions for housewives on what is needed, and why, how to dispose of the fats, and facts to remember, have been issued by the Lawrence County Salvage Committee.

What is needed—Pan drippings from roast ham, beef, lamb, poultry, etc.; broiler drippings from steaks, chops, veal, bacon, etc.; deep fats, whether lard or vegetable shortening, from fried potatoes, fish, doughnuts, etc.

Why it is needed—The war has cut off our sources of many oils and fats which are used in making glycerine for explosives. Much of this raw material formerly came as whale and fish oil from the Scandinavian countries; coconut and other oils from the Far East; and fats and oils from South America. All of these sources have been cut off.

How to dispose of it—Strain all drippings and renderings through a fine mesh cloth into clear open mouthed tin containers. When you have collected more than one pound, take it to your butcher who will pay your four cents (4c) per pound in cash or trade. Do not use glass or paper containers.

Do not make soap at home—In using your household fats in home soap making, you cannot reclaim the vital glycerine needed for explosives. The commercial soap maker is able to make soap from your fats and also reclaim the glycerine. He sells this glycerine to the munitions makers. When you make soap at home you are actually hurting the war effort. There will be ample quantities of soap, partly as a result of this fats salvage work.

Think ahead—In the course of time, tin coffee cans, lard and shortening cans will become scarce. Start now saving such containers for future use in fats salvage.

Remember—This fats salvage work will continue all through the war, or until you are notified that fats are no longer needed.

Weasel Invades Publicity Room At Westminster

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Dec. 11.—Willie the Weasel, public enemy number one among fur animals, is not only a slick creature but a publicity hound as well.

This was discovered here today when a weasel mysteriously invaded the Westminster College News bureau. The animal was found sitting on the window sill of a stock room on the third floor of old Main building. Windows and doors were all closed and how he got there remains a dark secret.

A hurried call was sent by student assistants to the college biology department which sent Janitor Dave Means armed with a wire cage to trap the weasel. After a half-hour chase over books, boxes and photographic equipment, Willie was captured but not until he had made known his presence and his close relation to the woods pussy.

Although there is a bounty on weasels, Means plans to keep the animal as a pet, if something can be done about its sharp teeth and B. O.

Small Investors Urged To Make More Intelligent Use Of Proxies For Stock

SMALL I I
By ROGER W. BABSON

Copyright—1942—Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.

NEW YORK CITY, Dec. 11.—It certainly gets my goat to have letters from small investors complaining that everyone is against them and that they are being robbed and persecuted. No group of people have better protection than have the small investors. In addition to the Securities and Exchange Commission, there are Blue-Sky Laws for nearly every state and a host of other laws thrown in for good measure. Today I especially want to write of the importance of the proxy and the power which small investors have in connection therewith.

BABSON

Proxies Contain Power

Most of the attempts to help small investors have been by legislation. One of the crying appeals is to have salaries of corporation officials reduced. To satisfy public clamour, this is now being done so that the presidents of the largest corporations will receive no more than the heads of certain labor unions! Yet, out of 130,000,000 people in the United States, only 3,000 are affected by such legislation and their total salaries amount to less than 1/100 of 1% of the total dividends. Most of the other legislation for which small investors are asking can have a very little affect upon dividends. Most of the other legislation for which small investors are asking can have a very little affect upon dividends. More legislation is not the answer to the problems of the small investor.

While investors are complaining, they, themselves, hold the cure for their troubles. I refer to the proxies which are sent out once a year and which 95% of investors sign like blind monkeys. Hence, the question: —Should a small investor ever sign a proxy unless the dividends received and the company's general policy are satisfactory to him? Certainly, investors who blindly sign and return proxies have no standing in court.

Investors Are Very Lazy

I know of no company whose stock is listed on the New York Stock Exchange where the directors and their friends own a majority of the stock. In most cases all the directors combined own only about 5% of the stock. The balance of the stock is usually distributed through thousands or perhaps a 100,000 small stockholders. I am not advising it, but I do say that if you and other small stockholders would only go on a "sit-down" strike and sign no proxies for awhile it would be impossible to hold the next Annual Meeting. Then the management would frantically write and ask you what is the reason for your not sending in to them your proxy. You would then have a chance to tell them. I promise you the result would be better dividends on your stock.

In other words, small investors, in order to get results, do not need to go to Washington or hire a lawyer, or do anything else but refuse to vote. Of course, if the president of the corporation writes and asks you what the trouble is and you are too lazy to answer the letter, then the fault will be squarely up to you. Unfortunately, I fear too many small investors are too lazy to write corporation officials and tell them what they want.

Family Companies Need A Shaking

Too much stock of most corporations is held by children, grandchildren and trustees who have no knowledge of the business. The stock has descended to these people who did nothing to deserve it. It almost seems as if too many companies are being operated from cemeteries rather than from efficient offices. Yet, on the votes of these "old friends" too many managements depend. These dry bones need to be shaken and this can best be done by the small stockholders. If investors would only appreciate the power of the proxy, their dividends received would increase and the value of their stocks would go up. This especially is true in the case of certain utility and insurance companies operated under management contracts.

All of this means that if you are satisfied that the companies in which you have your money invested are being honestly and efficiently operated and are paying a fair rate of dividend, then sign and return the proxies which are mailed to you. On the other hand, if you are dissatisfied, do not depend upon the Government or anyone else to help you out. Refuse to sign any proxy but instead write the company that you want the directors to give you better results before you will permit them to be re-elected.

Independent Proxy Committees

One difficulty with Germany, Italy and Japan is that they have only one political party. The hope of the United States and the other democracies lies with the two-party system. The German, if he goes to the polls, must vote for Hitler. There is no opposition party for whom he can vote. Those of us who are citizens of the United States can go to the polls and vote for the party in power or we can vote for the opposition. This means that a nation is much safer and certainly the citizens are better off, when there is a strong opposition party.

The same principle applies to corporations. Most corporations are today operated on the Nazi system with one party and one ballot,—the ballot being printed so as to keep in power the present management. The future hope of the American investor is to develop the two-party system with two ballots offered for each Annual Meeting,—one endorsing the present management and the other appealing for a change in management. When such a voting system exists, you will see better earnings, larger dividends and higher stock prices.

Conclusion

Of course, I'll be severely criticized by many corporation officials for taking investors into my confidence this way. These managements are dependent on their salaries; many of them are getting so old that they cannot get a job elsewhere. Hence, they resent any interference by a "poor country boy" like me. Furthermore, I have hesitated a long time before speaking out in meeting in this way. At last, however, I am determined to do so. Moreover, I am going to keep some extra copies of this column on my desk to send to investors who write me long tales of woe.

SIMPLIFICATION OF RATIONING IS URGED IN NATION

Senate Committee Calls For Changes In Programs For Rationing

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11—The Senate war investigation committee today called for simplification of gasoline and fuel rationing while at the same time declaring that rationing is necessary and warning of an increasing shortage of fuel oil in the future.

The committee's report, which was submitted to the senate by chairman Harry S. Truman (D) Mo., after an exhaustive inquiry, assailed government bureaus for complicating the problem by lack of prompt action to provide pipeline and barge transportation.

Highlights of the report follow:

1. A straight-line percentage cut should have been made in fuel oil allotments. Instead, bureaucrats examined temperatures for 43 years and produced a complex and unfair rationing method.

2. Farmers and other truck owners have difficulty in getting gas ration applications and have even greater difficulty understanding a 32-page book of instructions. Local boards should have responsibility for rationing.

3. Gasoline rationing to save rubber, recommended by the Truman committee 3½ months ahead of the Baruch report, is necessary.

4. Farmers should be given tractor fuel without rationing.

5. Fuel oil rationing is necessary because of spotted shortages and general transportation problem. Supplies are likely to decrease in 1943 and 1944.

6. Government should force conversion to coal, even to furnishing grates to home owners. This would be cheaper than subsidizing fuel oil transportation by tank cars.

7. Government bureaus were at fault for not authorizing pipe line construction earlier. The inland waterway barge program has bogged down.

Duke And Duchess In Surprise Visit To Palm Beach, Fla.

(International News Service)

PALM BEACH, Fla., Dec. 11.—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor rested at the home of Flying Officer Herbert Pulitzer in Palm Beach today following their surprise arrival in Miami by commercial air line from Nassau yesterday.

The royal couple, who immediately continued their journey from Miami to Palm Beach, will remain in Palm Beach over the week-end, it was understood. They motored up from Miami.

A small family party was given the royal couple last night by their host and his step-daughter, Miss Grace Amory, noted society golfer. Pulitzer, now stationed in Nassau, is a member of the publisher family.

The duke, governor of the Bahamas, announced upon his arrival in Miami that he had been working rather hard lately, and had come to the mainland "for a little rest".

Put Borough Funds In Victory Drive

New Wilmington To Invest $2,000 In War Bonds, Officials Decide

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Dec. 11.—Borough officials of New Wilmington have decided to invest $2,000 of borough funds in the Victory Bond Drive now being carried on in the community.

This was the decision reached at the regular monthly meeting of the council which requested Borough Secretary Thomas V. Mansell to study various issues and recommend which was the better type of bond in which to invest the funds.

Secretary Mansell reported that he had received word from Washington that no outside lighted decorations were to be displayed in the borough and that the same was to be discouraged on the part of citizens.

Last Marines Off For Training Posts

Groups Given Farewell Salute As They Leave Today, Thursday

In Thursday's group were:

Norman C. Peters, Floyd G. Kelley, David C Douthitt, Leonard F. Galansky and Earl T. Glenn of New Castle; William R. Piper, Loyal E. Koach and William A. Hamilton of Ellwood City; James A. Brown, Butler; Emanuel Nestor, Wheatland; John R. Post, Grove City; Donald A. Boots, Wampum, and Thomas M. Yost, Oil City.

Note on silly red tape: Every inch-square box of screws bought by the army has to be rubber-stamped by eight different agencies.

Some W.P.A. Will Not Be Ended In State Until June

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 11.—State WPA Administrator Richard Irvin said today that all service programs in the state will be abandoned by February 1 but training organizations and work-relief projects will be continued until June.

"Our present task is to rush completion of all work in an orderly fashion by bringing each project into a useful unit," he said.

Irvin disclosed that he had received instructions from President Roosevelt yesterday ordering the liquidation of the WPA. He explained that in smaller states the elimination of the agency was ordered by February, but that Pennsylvania's projects were too numerous and too large to be terminated by that date.

He explained that the service program included supplying clerks for government agencies and other similar work. The training and employment program, he said, will continue until June, with more workers being enrolled in classes as they are taken from finished projects. He said there were some 1,997 persons now being trained for useful occupations and by next week it was expected that the total would reach 2,500.

"We have 25,000 WPA workers in the state and we have to get rid of them as fast as we can," he declared. Irvin reasserted his prediction that the liquidation of the agency would force a majority of the WPA workers to go on relief, because, he said, approximately 13,000 are over 60 years old and incapacitated.

THIS TAXPAYER IN CLASS BY HIMSELF

(International News Service)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Dec. 11 — Most harassed citizen of Johnstown this fall is Tax Assessor M. M. Chudy who complains that everyone wants his property valuation lowered—that is, all except one landowner.

One lone taxpayer apparently likes to pay his taxes, because when he received notice that his property had been re-assessed at $3,800 he immediately called Chudy and demanded that the valuation be returned to $4,000.

Naturally, he got his wish.

THIS LITTLE PIG WENT TO MARKET

—and tried to get more than his share of a scarce article. He is a hoarder.

Most people hoard instinctively, as a simple matter of self-preservation. But, if they think a minute, they will see that hoarding destroys our national self-preservation, because it makes the war that much harder to win.

What if we are deprived of a little coffee, some extra sugar or gasoline? Must we live "as usual" when millions of our best young men and women are perhaps going thru the tortures of hell to protect the likes of you and me?

Or will we willingly, cheerfully set upon a voluntary course of self-denial to contribute our tiny bit to help win this war?

When tempted to hoard, think of Joe slugging his way thru a New Guinea jungle, or Bill racing across the blistering sands of Africa. Think of your own son or sweetheart. Would they be proud of your hoarding?

Please think about these things.

CHRISTMAS MAILING SHOULD BE DONE NOW

Wednesday afternoon, at 3, a truck load of mail was dispatched from the Mahoningtown post office, and the amount is ever on the increase. Mail to and from the men in service in the camps and overseas constitute much of this increase, says Ed. McBride, superintendent. If folks could see the local mail and city mail that is already going out and coming in from the trains at the B. and O. and P. and L. E. stations, at Mahoningtown, and the trains loaded with mail, they would wonder how the added Christmas mail is going to be handled. Mr. McBride urges office patrons to send their Christmas mail at once, to better ensure delivery by Christmas.

Yule Mail Flood Follows Warning Of Postal Chief

Outgoing Parcels Pile High As Gifts To Soldiers Stream In

The New Castle post office lobby fast took on its traditional "Christmasy" looks today.

Postmaster William R. Hanna said it seemed "a lot of people" must have heard Postmaster General Frank C. Walker's radio warning from Washington last night "to mail parcels and cards at once if you want them delivered by Christmas day."

Extras were called out here, additional parcel post trucks added—and, even so, the outgoing loads of packages were too large for the railway mail cars available.

But shipments weren't delayed very long. This morning's trains rushed them along.

Preparations for handling the huge mail bulk—in the outgoing and the incoming divisions—were being checked and re-checked for the heavier rush to come.

Soldier mail—gifts and cards—made up the big percentage of the volume handled today.

Although coins had been made and money had been used to some extent previously, it was not until Rome became a world power in the centuries just preceding Christ's birth, that money took an important place in affairs. It was also at this time that soldiers were first paid for their services.

SURPRISE VISIT PUTS AUTO POLICE 'ON THE CARPET'

(International News Service)

FORT WORTH, Tex., Aug. 10—An unexpected visit by the Fort Worth Police Commissioner to the city garage brought about a general summons for all motorized policemen in the city.

Complaint: That the cops were failing to report their own accidents. That, furthermore, such negligence in the future would cost the officer who dented a fender and failed to report it the sum of the repair bill.

The commissioner had found city mechanics laboring over three police cars which, so far as the record was concerned, were either out on duty or on call.

JAP GARRISON REMNANTS AT BUNA DOOMED

tough, too. And they are convinced that they are the masters of the vaunted Nipponese who made a reputation as invincibles in their rapid drive through the Malayan jungles to Singapore.

"They were supposed to be world beaters, but we have their number," said Private Albert Wyne of Detroit, who came back to a field hospital today with a slight wound.

"We gave them a good going-over around Buna. After our planes pounded their positions we went in with hand grenades and bayonets and they didn't like it.

Jap Bodies All Around

There were Jap bodies all around—hundreds of them. We stumbled over them getting to the live ones.

"It was hard going, I'll admit. We had to root them out one by one, but we did it.

"We've seen the best they have, including the Jap marines, and we know we can lick them. They may have been hot shots in Malaya, but we have learned how to take care of them."

The Japanese are in sore straights. They have been driven out of Gona, and are hemmed in around Buna 14 miles south. They landed at Lae and Salamaua March 9, and took the Gona-Buna coastal sector July 22. Last September 21 they had crossed the Owen Stanley mountain range and were within 32 miles of our base at Port Moresby.

Then the Allied counter drive started and swept the enemy back to the coast.

Now they are playing out their string, but they are definitely "bomb-happy."

In the past few days the Japs tried several times to break through our encirclement, but we mowed them down. Not a single one got through.

HOLD SINGER AND HIS TWO "PALS"

Robert Hart, 16; John Terlecki, 14, and Howard Smith, also 14, all of Youngstown, were detained here last night pending the arrival of their parents. They were reportedly enroute to New York where one of them said Hart was to sing for Major Bowes and the others were to harmonize with him.

Three High School Boys Are Killed

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Dec. 11—Three youths, all residents of nearby Cetronia, were killed today when their automobile skidded into the path of a heavy truck on ice-coated paving in the center of Allentown.

The victims died before medical attention could be given. They were Roy Bortz, 18; Bruce Nestor, 19, and Henry Dorney, 9.

The trio was returning from a high school basketball game, in which Bortz played as a member of the South Whitehall township team, when their car collided with the truck operated by Michael Roth, 25, of Bedford. Roth and a hitch-hiker—Rowland Hess of Conyngham, second class seaman in the U. S. Coastguard—escaped injury.

MOST DIFFICULT WAR CONDITIONS IN NEW GUINEA

and has driven the warriors of the empire of the Rising Sun back across the mountains to the coast, and has eliminated all Japanese forces in southeastern New Guinea, except those at the base at Buna.

This fighting has taken place under the most difficult climatic conditions existing on the whole World War front—steaming, soaking jungles—filled with malaria-bearing mosquitoes. Brilliant foliage over a deadly surface of Nipa and Sago swamps, where one can see huge scarlet ropes of vine flowers growing from tree to tree over the clear bright green of arsenic bushes. A country where men have to protect themselves from death adders when they sleep. Where, if men do not sleep under mosquito nettings, they will almost of a certainty contract deadly jungle diseases.

American troops are fighting with the Australians who are now attacking the last Japanese stronghold at Buna. None of our soldiers could have been prepared for these terrific climatic conditions. But our army medical care is taking the fighting men through in amazingly fine shape.

Difficult Conditions

This is an obscure unknown fighting front, where you see no mechanized weapons or motorized vehicles. Male natives are largely the packhorses. Practically every round of ammunition fired has to be moved by man power over these great, beautiful, rough mountains. To look from the low country upwards at these mountains of a most delicate purplish blue tint is a sight so beautiful that it is beyond description.

In my article of September 15th, I stated: "Strategically, this United Nations base (Port Moresby) is far more than a thorn in the side of the Japanese. It is a sharp sword because from Moresby Allied planes can raid practically all of New Guinea, New Britain, New Ireland, and the Solomon group. It places all our airships at least 320 miles closer to these numerous Nipponese fighting locations than they would be if based in Australia." And now we have a base, Gona, that is 160 miles still closer to these vital Japanese strongholds.

General MacArthur is driving eastward aiming at New Britain and New Ireland. Our armed forces at Guadalcanal will, at the proper time, move northward. Thus we see a pincer action which will encompass and destroy all of the Japanese in the islands to the northeast and east of Australia. Then the United Nations will hold protection and jumping-off places parallel and to the south of three Nipponese bases at Pelew, Truck, and Jaluit.

Must Impose Peace In Ruined Capitals Of Axis Nations

(International News Service)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Dec. 11.—Roane Waring, national commander of the American Legion, insisted today that eventual peace must be imposed in the ruined capitals of the Axis nations.

Speaking before a community rally in Montgomery, he declared:

"America must dictate a strong and just peace amid smouldering ruins of Berlin, Rome and Tokyo, and keep wielding a big stick after this war is won to safeguard democracy's life in the future.

"There always will be war as long as men are men and as long as selfishness of nations exists. The only salvation for the United States is to do as Teddy Roosevelt said—'Speak softly, but carry a big stick'."

Commander Waring predicted that when the war is over there will be another effort to slow down and abolish all things military, but emphatically declared:

"We must not let that happen again—we must keep America strong."

FIRE DESTROYS PLANT

(International News Service)

WALDEN, Colo., Dec. 11.—The 250-ton milling plant of the Western Fluorspar company, north of Walden, was in ruins today, the result of a $125,000 fire of undetermined origin.

The mineral produced by the company is used in Buffalo, N. Y., in the production of steel, according to Superintendent M. P. Cloonan.

MEAT RATIONING IS LIKELY SOON

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Agriculture department officials today stated that meat rationing is the only full solution to critical meat shortages in such defense centers as Detroit, Boston, Philadelphia and Los Angeles.

"Voluntary rationing, such as we now have, won't work," department sources said.

"At present, it is first come, first served in butcher shops throughout the nation. There is really nothing akin to a fair distribution system for meat."

It was indicated that, with Food Administrator Wickard's appointment of a director of food distribution, nation-wide rationing of meat will come soon, possibly within the next two or three weeks.

Meanwhile, the OPA moved to relieve meat shortages in defense areas by setting up unified ceiling prices on all wholesale beef.

Over 20,000 attended a Free French charity fete in Buenos Aires, Argentina.

More Telephone Aids Are Needed At Control Center

New Castle's control center for the county Council of Defense is one of the best in the state, according to state officials. But it isn't perfect for there are still a few periods of duty that are unfilled in the telephone service.

For the most part the periods are filled by men and women of the city who are sacrificing comfort and sleep to see that the telephones are manned. By now there are but few places unfilled and Numa F. Vidal, control officer, is most anxious that a 24-hour schedule be maintained.

Serving in the telephone booths of the control center is not a glamorous duty. It isn't hard either, but to be done right it takes a desire to serve and a willingness to sacrifice personal desires at times.

Men or women of any age who wish to serve as telephonists in the control center are asked to get in touch with Mr. Vidal at 1820.

Cooper-Bessemer To Broadcast Ceremony

Inter-Plant Hook-Up To Reproduce "M" Presentation In Both Plants

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, Dec. 11.—Officials of the Cooper-Bessemer Corporation are arranging for an inter-plant hook-up, through a public address system and a direct wire between Mt. Vernon and Grove City, so that employes of both plants can participate simultaneously in ceremonies marking the presentation of the Maritime Commission "M" for production. The ceremonies will be held here at some date yet to be set before December 20.

It is understood that Admiral Vickery, chairman of the Maritime Commission board of awards, will be present for the occasion. The presentation is especially significant since only about 60 such awards have thus far been made out of an estimated 500 to 700 firms engaged in Maritime production work. The award corresponds to the Army-Navy "E" for production.

At the local plant, production of Diesel engines for Liberty ships is ahead of schedule, while a similar situation exists at Mt. Vernon where the company turns out cylinders, pistons, etc., and other engine parts.

TRIBUTE GIVEN YOUNG MEN AT WEST PITTSBURG

West Pittsburg said "so long" to six young men Thursday night when a community dinner was held in the Diaz Hall in honor of the six who leave for the army in a few days. The six honored were Kenneth Freed, Frank Papa, Michael Kessler, Emil Marcantino, Joseph Kronka, Sam Patsy. The first two leave on Saturday and the latter four leave Monday morning.

The dinner was a bountiful one, served in the usual hospitable West Pittsburg style. Spaghetti and meat balls in abundance were served by the women of West Pittsburg comprising the committee.

Squire James Vessella opened the speaking program with a few remarks and then turned the meeting over to Squire Tony Isabella who acted as toastmaster. Squire Isabella paid his compliments to the boys and then called upon three speakers, Aviation Cadet William Greer, Bart Richards and Tony Germaine.

Aviation Cadet Greer is home on furlough before attending pilot school in Texas and his remarks were timely and illustrative.

Mr. Greer told of some of his experiences in the Panama jungle, and of flying over South America to the Galapagos Islands. He closed by predicting that the West Pittsburg men would make good soldiers and wishing them luck.

In behalf of the community Squire Vessella presented each one of the boys with a service kit. The meeting closed with the singing of "God Bless America."

Good Neighbor Policy Brings "New Hope" To Latin America, Batista Declares

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—America's good neighbor policy has "brought new hope," and the Atlantic charter has proclaimed a brighter perspective for Latin-American nations, Maj. Gen. Fulgencio Batista, president of Cuba, declared Thursday in pledging before congress the full aid of his country in prosecution of the war.

"Cuba occupies her place of honor at the side of her constant ally in this grave struggle," Batista said in his address to the House, "and wishes to contribute to the limit of her strength in the reconstruction of the world in which the sons of those who suffered the ignominy of yesterday and of those who fell in the struggle to achieve liberty may live without the suffering and anguish of today."

British Patrols Keeping Rommel's Force Unnerved

Tactics Are Harassing Germans And Italians In El Agheila Forward Positions

(International News Service)

CAIRO, Dec. 11.—Gen. Sir. Bernard L. Montgomery's tactics of harassing the Germans and Italians in forward positions outside El Abheila has unnerved the Axis forces awaiting the hour when the British Eighth Army again will strike, it was indicated today in a communique from Middle East headquarters.

British patrols constantly are prying into the defenses established by Nazi General Field Marshal Erwin Rommel following his headlong retreat from Egypt and half way across Libya, said the communique issued by Gen. Sir Harold R. L. G. Alexander.

"Although no major engagement has taken place, enemy reactions to the constant activity of our patrols indicates his forward troops are in a state of some nervousness," the Middle East commander said.

Successful new Allied air attacks against enemy-held docks on the coast of Tunisia and the airfield at Tunis were disclosed.

The communique said that docks at both La Goulette, near Tunis, and Sousse, as well as the landing field at Tunis, were bombarded Wednesday night.

Both fighters and fighter bombers were active over the Libyan battle area.

The Axis airfield at Marble Arch, just west of El Agheila, on the Gulf of Sidra, was bombed and assaults were conducted against enemy vehicles, gun emplacements and encampments.

One More Bus Reaches City

T. C. Moore, general manager, Shenango Valley Bus Transportation company, at noon today announced arrival here of another bus which was reconditioned. It is of 31-capacity.

"We will not receive the other bus until next week," he said.

General Manager Moore, asked as to the proposed "local" and "thru" bus system proposed in council yesterday, intimated he did not think much of the plan. He inferred it would not work out.

However, the general manager did say:

"The request to women shoppers to do their business and ride the buses between 10 a. m. and 3 p. m. is meritorious. It is working out. Many women have shown a desire to help out in the emergency because it is that. Abnormal conditions are here. Not only is gas rationing in effect but war work has caused increased riding."

OCD NOTES

Activities Of O. C. D. Workers Are Outlined In This Column

MEETING PLEASES

City OCD staff members were considerably pleased with the turnout Wednesday night in city hall. Traffic regulations were explained. Major Guy Wadlinger delivered a V-bond address and it was announced that some time next week OCD workers will be able to secure from post headquarters copies of the OCD first aid manual. It is proposed to place 4,000 such booklets at warden posts, fire station and the city police bureau. They are free. The V-home also was discussed. During the evening the group leaders, senior and junior wardens also voted to sponsor an indoor circus here next spring.

SHENANGO TOWNSHIP POST SIREN

The siren which was sounded for test purposes at Thursday noon is that of Post 6, Shenango twp., not South New Castle borough. It is located on the property of F. P. Marino.

WHAT IS A V HOME?

A V home is one in which occupants say: "We in this home are fighting. We know this war will be easy to lose and hard win. We mean to win it. Therefore we solemnly pledge all our energies and all our resources to the fight for freedom and against fascism. We serve notice to all that we are personally carrying the fight to the enemy, in these ways:

This home follows the instructions of its air raid wardens, in order to protect itself against attack by air.

This home conserves food, clothing, transportation and health, in order to hasten an unceasing flow of war materials to our men at the front.

This home saves essential materials, in order that they may be converted to immediate war uses.

This home refuses to spread rumors designed to divide our nation.

This home buys war savings stamps and bonds regularly.

We are doing these things because we know we must win this war.

SHOULD APPEAR, TAKE OATH

State Defense To Care For Children

Care Centers For Children Whose Mothers Are In War Industry Planned

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 11 — The state defense council is making arrangements for the care of children of women employed in war plants.

An offer by several colleges to conduct short courses to train staff personnel for child care centers was approved at the first meeting of the council's advisory committee on care of children of women in defense industries.

Dr. A. C. Marts, executive director of the defense council, said that "we regard this problem of child care as one of the most critical in Pennsylvania in reference to the war effort because more and more women are now being drawn into war industries."

A representative of the federal housing agency regional office in New York reported that there are approximately 25,000 children under six years of age living in the 63 housing projects already opened in the state and that the authorities would make child care facilities available wherever possible.

News And Views From Pennsylvania Capital

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 11 — If the Republican legislators are able to keep their pledge and adjourn the general assembly sine die on April 15 it will be the shortest regular session since 1877 . . . Seventy-six years ago the general assembly met for the biennial session and concluded its work in 81 days . . . If the 1943 session is adjourned on April 15, as proposed in a resolution adopted by the G. O. P. house majority, the lawmakers will be here 101 days . . . The 1941 assembly, prolonged by a dispute between Republicans and Democrats, lasted 190 days, the longest session in 99 years.

The legislative intention to halt the introduction of bills in the house after March 15 is indicative of a desire to have a speedy session. The Democrats, when they controlled the house during the 1941 session, never fixed a deadline . . . Rep. H. David Sarge, of Lebanon, is understood ready to introduce a resolution similar to the one he sponsored in 1941, to name a joint senate-house committee to reduce the cost of printing bills and to eliminate the cost of filing bills. . . . Sarge proposed a $5,000 appropriation for expenses.

James administration leaders are predicting that the turnover in state employes will be small when Governor-elect Edward Martin takes office . . . Normally the advent of a new administration presages mass firings . . .This time, however, the commonwealth is finding it difficult to hire employes because workers are taking jobs in high-paying war industries . . . One department was recently forced to hire a 78-year-old messenger . . . Employes now on the job will probably be asked to get the indorsement of the county chairmen but it is expected that this will be largely a formality because the employment shortage is so acute that scores of workers are now being hired without any political indorsements.

Audley Boak, of Slippery Rock township, Lawrence county, is being boomed by Grange leaders for appointment as secretary of agriculture in the Martin cabinet . . . A former master of the state grange, Boak is an active farmer . . He is also president of the Pennsylvania wheat growers association and vice president of the Pennsylvania master farmers . . . Governor-elect Edward Martin, is reportedly considering naming a western farm leader to the cabinet inasmuch as the past two secretaries have been from eastern Pennsylvania . . . The present incumbent is John H. Light, of Annville, Lebanon county.

SECURE 305,000 JOBS

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 11.—The U. S. employment service for Pennsylvania has found jobs for more than 305,000 persons since the first of the year, State Director H. Raymond Mason announced today.

Most of them have gone into war industries, he disclosed.

Near East Peoples Now Want Freedom

Dean Of University At Cairo Declares Help Of America Needed There

(International News Service)

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa., Dec. 11—"It is only in recent years that the people of the Near East have come to realize the meaning of freedom and that there is a way of life better than they had, if they can grasp it," Dr. Robert Stewart McClenahan, of Philadelphia, Dean Emeritus of the School of Oriential studies of the American University at Cairo, declared recently in an address at Wilson college.

"With this realization came a complete change from a church state into a world attitude of mind," he continued. "There has been dissatisfaction and unrest since they have tasted the possibility of freedom without control and they have become conscious of their intellectual, material, social and financial bankruptcy.

"If America, because of its geographical location, its heritage and its intelligence, does not have a share in a large way in helping the near East to find a way out, can we expect Divine benediction?"

PENNSY HAS SAVED ALUMINUM, RUBBER

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 11—A conservation program begun by the Pennsylvania railroad in 1940 and since progressively widened in scope, has resulted in far reaching savings of vital war materials, the carrier's officials disclosed recently.

The railroad has entirely eliminated its use of aluminum, releasing more than 100,000 pounds on the basis of last year's consumption. Rubber is being rigidly conserved by newly developed methods, a spokesman said, while a 75 per cent saving in tin has been effected.

New Castle Cage Bombers To Face Farrell Tonight

Season Inaugural Begins At 8; Washington Court Battlefront

LOCAL FLIPPING UNIT IS GREEN

New Castle high's 1942-43 basketball bombers battle under fire for the first time this season tonight at 8, facing an always clever Farrell high squadron on George Washington junior high range.

As the Cane dribblers staged their final practice session, Coach Phil Bridenbaugh and Faculty Manager Ralph Gardner indicated that a green quintet will face the Steelers.

With the exception of John Zubkowsky and Harvey Burris, varsity hands last season, the remaining berths are manned by comparative rookies.

Andrews at Forward

"Bill" Andrews, a 5 foot 8½ athlete, has made a big hop from junior high to Class A scholastic ball. While he has displayed class in pre-season drills, his manner of play when the chips are down is a question mark. The youth is fast, a ball hawk, an excellent defensive man and an accurate flipper.

Eddie Jacobs, the other forward, saw action as a reserve last season and has shown daily improvement. Only 5 feet 9 inches in height, the south sider is shifty, fast, plays a better than average defensive hand and favors a one hand shot.

Tony Razzano, third varsity man, has won one of the guard berths, the 5 foot 8 athlete is unusually fast despite the fact that he hauls about 180 pounds. He is scrappy and figures to be valuable by the time the Section III firing starts.

Burris, standing 6 feet 1, and Zubkowsky, a 6 foot 3 performer, boast of much needed height.

In the reserve bracket, Fred Wimer and Jim Fair, a pair of six footers, are almost sure to see action. They have displayed promise since the opening drills and represent Andrews' major threats.

The locally will use a tightly knitted sliding zone defense which perennially proves a stumbling block to the opposition. Effectiveness of long range shots usually prove the localites' downfall.

Farrell, piloted by resourceful Tudor Lewis, ex-Westminster ace, started the campaign by slaughtering a supposedly powerful Woodrow Wilson five, 43-25. Phil Chiapianella, operating from a forward slot, tattooed the rims for 17 points and is the team's star. Skendrovich is classy, too. Farrell is heavily favored.

In a preliminary, the Ne-Ca-Hi Reserves make their debut against George Washington junior high's varsity starting about 6:45 o'clock.

The main event will have no bearing on the WPIAL race, being listed as a pre-season exhibition.

The probable lineup:

New Castle		Farrell
Andrews	F	Chiapianella
Jacobs	F	Ford
Zubkowsky	C	Adams
Burris	G	Trombacco
Razzano	G	Skendrovich

COACH FLAHERTY JOINS U S NAVY

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—The underdog Washington Redskins today were given an added incentive for their title contest with the Chicago Bears, when it was disclosed that the game Sunday will be the last one they will play for the duration under Coach Ray Flaherty.

Flaherty was sworn into the navy two weeks ago as a lieutenant and has been ordered to report for duty immediately following the pro championship game.

Ending his great seven-year career as coach in the pro ranks, Flaherty will report to indoctrination school at Hollywood, Fla., where he will remain for a few weeks prior to taking over an assignment as an athletic officer under Commander Gene Tunney. He is expected to be given charge of a new training center in northern Idaho.

The chief boatswain's mate and the unbeaten negro lightweight arrived in Philadelphia after completing initial drills in New York. Robinson is a heavy favorite to record his 40th pro victory.

Pitt Releases 8 Game Grid Card

Panthers May Have De-emphasized; Schedule Doesn't Show It

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 11.—The de-emphasized University of Pittsburgh Panthers released an anything but de-emphasized 1943 football schedule today.

Although winning but three out of nine games during the past season, Pitt will continue to play first-rate schools with the highlight game being the one with Minnesota at Pittsburgh on October 9. The only new attraction on the locals schedule is Illinois which will be played on the Illini field October 16. The complete schedule follows:

October 2—At Duke.
October 9—Minnesota.
October 16—At Illinois.
October 23—At S. M. U.
October 30—Carnegie Tech.
November 6—Ohio State.
November 13—At Nebraska.
November 20—Penn State.

SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

Friday hash:

Still the size of a boxcar and as tough as whalebone, Benny Ciccone, a member of the Chicago Cards of the National Professional Football league, dashed back to town a day or two ago. As he hit New Castle terrain the popular redhead scurried like a scared gazelle to New Castle hospital.

He headed for the maternity floor to kiss his wifey and get a first glimpse of his new 11 day professional star. Benny, who is passing out cigars for the second time, lifted the seven-pound, 10-ounce infant, and exclaimed:

"Boy, here's good material for the Chicago Cards." He would have said the Chicago Bears but you know that adage about "biting the hand that feeds you." The nationally known athlete is beaming like a lighthouse tower.

The conversation got around to football and Sunday's championship game. "I've played against both the Bears and Redskins. Washington has a good line and Sammy Baugh's arm. But, those Bears have everything. They're terrific. I don't think it'll be a walkaway like the 73-0 wallop, but I feel certain that the Bears will win," he predicted.

Wampum high's flipping master, Coy Craine, has pitched 67 points in three games against topnotch opposition . . . This scribbler finished the grid guessing season with 268 right, 140 wrong and 22 deadlocks. Eliminating the draws, the average was slightly better than 72 per cent.

WCAE will broadcast the pro title game starting at 1:45 o'clock Sunday . . . The same station will air tonight's Nova-Mauriello setto . . . Gerry Nugent, of the Phillies, is asking $400,000 for 52 shares of stock in the club. No harm in asking.

With Leo Durocher at the helm, the Dodgers won 376 and lost 238, for a .612 average in four seasons. A good enough reason why the Lip should have been retained . . . I like the Bears by at least four touchdowns, and UCLA to finally spank Southern California.

NO NICKNAMES

Navy's lieutenant commanders don't have nicknames. So Lawrence Haskell, who holds that title, no longer is annoyed by the old nickname he carried in Big Six athletics. It was "Jap."

ALL-OUT MARINE

Teddy Lyons has finished up all his sports business and from now on he's a U. S. Marine exclusively. After the end of the season with the White Sox he sold his Chicago bowling alley interest.

Villanova Blasts Fort Dix Passers

(International News Service)

VILANOVA, Pa., Dec. 11—Running up their highest score in recent years, Villanova's highly-trained courtment rang up their 112th victory under Coach Al Severance by trimming a highly regarded Fort Dix quintet, 75 to 55.

In their opening game of the season, the Wildcats poured 32 field goals through the cord to the bewilderment of the visitors, who had previously won eight out of ten.

NO WORRY

One of Duke's main football objectives was Pitt, and Head Coach Eddie Cameron knew all about the Panthers. As aide to former coach Wallace Wade, he had scouted Pitt continuously, but had never seen Pitt and Duke play.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Lou Nova, the Up and Down heavyweight and Tami Mauriello are scheduled to fight in New York tonight. Jimmy Bivins will oppose the winner. In Cleveland next Thursday night Bivins will box Anton (The Greek) Christoforidis, but the 'top card' of the show no doubt will come when Cincinnati's sensational Ezzard Charles mingles with Bivins.

Alex Swiegart, editor of the Pennsylvania Angler has joined the army. Incidentally it might be reported that the covers for the Christmas number of The Angler and also the Pennsylvania Game News were very appropriate.

There'll be no fight in Mexico City, January 1, between Manuel Ortiz of Los Angeles, N. B. A. bantamweight champion and Lou Salica, New York title-holder. The fight was cancelled because Ortis wanted the promoter to pay all taxes including the 15 percent government tax.

Dad Vail Memorial Rowing regetta will be held on the Charles river next May with Boston U as the host . . . Pitt isn't likely to join the Big Ten because James Hagen, director of athletics failed to attend the latest meeting at Chicago. Whether or the lickings Pitt took from Ohio State and Minnesota had anything to do with it isn't known, is the substance of a report from Chicago.

Broadway Mourns Jack Doyle's Death

Recall Colorful Career Of Famous 66-Year-Old "Wizard Of Odds"

HIS WORD FINAL IN SPORTS EVENTS

By JACK MAHON
(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—The sports mob along Broadway is sad for one of its most familiar and beloved characters, Jack Doyle, the "Wizard of Odds" is dead.

Along West 49th street, that famous cement strip known as Jacobs Beach; along the main stem itself and in the taverns of the town, the betting mob reminisced of the colorful, genial gentleman, who, for almost a century, had been the No. 1 odds-maker of the nation.

They recalled the career of this famous sportsman; his start as a wide-eyed youth around New England sports events; his migration to the Big Town in 1899 and his adoption of Broadway where he squatted, set up shop and existed until his death Tuesday in Jacksonville, Fla.

Broadway Jack, as he was known, succumbed to a heart ailment with which he was bothered for several years while en route from Miami to De Funiak Springs, Fla., where he has spent the winter in recent years.

Full, Colorful Life

At 66 he left behind him a full life, colored with sports, national personalities and thrills and a reputation as one of the most brilliant and accurate analysts of public opinion on current events the Big Town has ever known.

These are the tales they were telling today. They recalled Jack Doyle's start as a sportsman. Too many years ago for even the late Broadway Jack, himself, to recall, he went to a racetrack and watched the scurrying mob rush to place bets on a famous three horse event of that era.

Two famous colts were entered, the other was an unknown nag that was entered just to flash its owners' colors in high class company. Young Doyle noticed the bookies had 100-1 written opposite this plug's name on their slates. He asked what this meant and a good natured odds-layer explained.

The young fellow had exactly two dollars and decided to bet it. He was asked his name.

The bookie then shouted "$1,000 to $2.00 for Mr. Jack Doyle!"

The trio broke, and as happens so often in races of this type, the two star thoroughbreds kept close watch on each other and ignored the pace-setting longshot. This plug led until about 50 yards from the wire when one of the favorites suddenly woke up and, with a very belated spurt, barely nosed it out—right at the wire.

Doyle loved to tell that story, explaining "the shock was so great I spent the next 50 years trying to get even!"

John T. Doyle, as he was christened up in Springfield, Mass., where he was born in 1876, Tod Sloan, ex-jockey star, and the late John McGraw, former manager of the N. Y. Giants baseball team, went into partnership and opened Doyle's billard academy on Broadway at 14th street more than 35 years ago.

It was a hangout for fighters, ball players, jockeys, in fact every kind of sporting character; many important fights were signed on the premises In later years Doyle bought out his partners, and though he transferred the business uptown, he maintained the academy until his death.

Phone Buzzed Constantly

Doyle's office hours were strictly a joke. He was awakened at all hours of the night to settle bets, quote prices or give advice to some drunk on a coming sports event. His phone never stopped ringing and he quoted prices on all kinds of sports events and the national elections.

He was a betting commissioner, handling hundreds of thousands of dollars from the plungers of the nation, and was a familiar figure at every boxing, horse race or baseball feature in the last half century

Doyle missed but two world series, the 1919 and 1942 events. His health kept him away this fall—the other proved to be the "Black Sox" scandal-series between Chicago and Cincinnati.

Since his retirement in 1937 Doyle refused to have his name attributed to published odds but kept his finger on the betting pulse of the nation and, until his death, his prices were still circulated by the sports scribes of the nation.

Nova Underdog In Bout Tonight

Tami Mauriello 12-5 Favorite; Lou Will Quit If He Doesn't Win

By JACK MAHON
(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 11—The weird young man known as Lou Nova, who has tried to keep the sports world from dozing by lengthy lectures on the value of cosmic punches, dynamic stance and a lot of other nonsense in the past, will attempt to prove to the same citizens at Madison Square Garden tonight he is not a bum.

That is the simple story of the 10-round bout Promoter Michael Strauss Jacobs has thoughtfully arranged for his clients between cosmic Lou and young Tami Mauriello of the Bronx. Mauriello, despite the fact that a year ago he was fighting for the middleweight title and Nova was only a 3-1 underdog against Champion Joe Louis, will go into the ring highly favored tonight.

Tami's record of 11 wins, a draw with Bob Pastor and one disputed reversal in a dozen fights this year and Nova's inactivity explain the price of 12-5 being levied on Mauriello.

Kayoed By Savold

Nova's last big fight was with Lee Savold in Washington, D. C., last summer. The cosmic gentleman would not listen to the advice of his manager, Mr. Ray Carlen and soak his face with brine to toughen it.

Lou has been bitten by the acting bug during the Florida winter season and his skin had become soft. Mr. Nova has a mind of his own, as Carlen found out a long time ago, and wouldn't listen and lost on a technical kayo that all but ended his career.

It should be a good fight for Nova has told Manager Carlen he will quit the ring if beaten decisively. Both lads do their best when they are hurt and since they enjoy slugging there shouldn't be many dull moments.

HE WAS A PHIL

Sliding Billy Hamilton of the 1894 Phils holds the all-time major league record for run-scoring in a season—196.

Turns to Coaching

Considered one of the greatest centers ever to play football, Mel Hein, above, All-American at Washington State and for the last 12 years the iron man snapper-back of the New York pro football Giants, soon assumes his new duties as physical education instructor and football coach at Union college, Schenectady, N. Y.

Grovers Open Cage Season December 16

Center Position Plaques Coach Ruffner; Youngstown First Foe.

GROVE CITY, Dec. 11.—The center position continues to plague Coach Charlie Ruffner as he drills the Grove City passers for the opener with Youngstown's Penguins, here December 16.

John Sackett, senior from Olean, N. Y., is working out at the position, although he is handicapped by a recently sprained ankle, and his experience has been at the forward post. The Grovers lost a star center by graduation of Cozy Fowler, and the first-string replacement, Red Smith, now in service.

With the squad cut to 22 players, Coach Ruffner plans a further reduction to 15 or 16 before the opener. Practices have shown that the competition will be close for starting berths among the first 15 men, as "A" and "B" teams in any number of combinations, have staged several tight practice games.

By reason of experience, the opening line-up may include George Steck, Oil City, and Red McClelland, Franklin, at the forwards McClelland was not in school last year, but was with the squad two seasons ago. At guard, two veterans are available, Bob Hutchison of Butler and Bill Easton of Sharon. Hutchison has been a regular for three years, while Easton, a junior, has won his letter every year.

Detroit Liquidates 2 Bush Loop Clubs

Tigers Continue Cutting Down; Slash Scouts From Seven To Three

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Dec. 11.—The Detroit Tigers are liquidating the two minor league clubs they own outright, general manager Jack Zeller declared today.

Zeller announced that Beaumont, in the Texas league, has been sold to Ernest Lorbeer, Detroit scout, who will attempt to interest Beaumont business men in operating the club next season.

The franchise of the Winston-Salem club in the Piedmont league has been turned over to Zinn Beck, also a Tiger scout, Zeller said.

Zeller also disclosed that the Tiger scout staff will be reduced from seven to three.

"The immediate future of baseball doesn't indicate that we will have a great deal of work for scouts," Zeller said.

FAIR OR FOUL

By LAWTON CARVER
INS Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—The University of Georgia will be about a 5 to 1 favorite to win in the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day regardless of which team the southerners are called upon to face—Southern California or U. C. L A. The odds look crazy, but that's the kind of football season this has been and may continue to be right on through the post season games.

Georgia's opponent will be determined on the coming Saturday, when Southern California and U. C. L. A. tangle up at Los Angeles for the coast conference title and automatic entry into the Pasadena classic. For this one, U. S. C. is a 6 to 5 favorite, or, actually, the game is virtually a tossup. U. C. L. A. probably will win it, and then may go ahead and beat Georgia, which can be had as Auburn proved at a time when Georgia looked like the hottest thing off or on wheels.

However, it's about time the invaders of the West did something about that bowl situation out there on the coast. The West, which means the Pacific Coast conference has won 13 times, lost only eight and tied three. Moreover, the West has won the last four in a row. In 1938 California took Alabama, 13 to 0, then Southern California beat Duke, 7 to 3, and Tennessee 14 to 0 in the next two years and Stanford knocked off Nebraska, 21 to 13 in last New Year's Day.

Studded With Upsets

This oldest of all the bowl classics—dating back as it does to 1916—has been one studded with upsets, as a further indication that a Georgia win is not exactly a foregone conclusion.

The way the campaign has gone on the coast this year, with most of the teams trundling along like so many in-and-outers, has built up possibilities for one of the greatest upsets of all time. The coast conference winner will be on edge for the windup tussle and will be waiting out there for the opposition.

The latter might have cooled out a little since the season close and will have to top that off by travelling all the way across country to get to the scene of action. The question thus seems to be whether Coach Waly Butts can get the Georgians "up" for this one, and this will be especially vexing if the Georgians have decided that the game already is won.

The Georgia eleven has been rated as the standout, one of its players, Frankie Sinkwich, has been picked as the outstanding football player of the year, Coach Butts will be rated among the coaches of the year, if not the No. 1 man in this respect, and this makes to order a situation for what would be classed as an upset. That is, a victory by the virtually unheard coast bowl eleven which hasn't yet been definitely established.

Trainer's Hunch Proves Straight

(International News Service)

BAY MEADOWS, Cal., Dec. 11.—Like the boys who plunk down $2 on some plater, horsemen themselves get strange hunches, and Trainer Earl Kelley today sure wished he had played his hunch straight.

Kelley, who trains for C. Le Roy King of Memphis, Tenn., had a strange premonition Wednesday when Dr. M. J. O'Rourke, track veterinarian for Bay Meadows, examined his horse Memphi.

"Look him over good," Kelley pleaded with O'Rourke.

O'Rourke pronounced the horse in good health. Still Kelley was not satisfied.

"It's an awful rough track and I have a feeling that I should scratch the horse," Kelley said gloomily.

Memphis went into the race, with Kelley mournfully watching over the track fence. Racing far out in front, the horse fell, broke his ankle bone in two and had to be destroyed.

Collier's Announces All-American Eleven

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Nominations by ten veteran football writers, covering scattered sections of the country, made up the choices for Collier's 53rd annual All-America football team announced today.

The aim of those who forwarded the selections is to reward those who have contributed most to the game, rather than pick a team that would beat some rival lineup.

The team is composed of Donald Currivan of Boston college and Dave Schreiner of Wisconsin, ends; Richard Wildung of Minnesota, and Robin Olds of Army, tackles; Lindell Houston of Ohio State and Julius Franks of Michigan, guards; Joseph Dommanovich of Alabama, center; William Hillenbrand of Indiana, quarterback; Frank Sinkwich of Georgia and Paul Governali of Columbia, halfbacks; Michael Holovak of Boston college, fullback.

Jim Brieske was only third string center of the Michigan football team, but he was handy at kicking goals and thus is the team's third highest scorer.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

The workers for the Victory Loan Drive are really getting out and working their brains to the limit. Selling bonds is no easy job . . . that is if one expects to understand the workings of the various bonds . . . and there are seven of them. You can invest your money with the Government for as many years as you wish . . . there's a bond for your needs. A person who has any extra cash is very foolish if they don't invest it with the U. S. A. . . . Not only will they be helping themselves but they will be making it possible for our Nation to get back to regular times much sooner. To us that is the most important thing on earth right now . . getting the world settled so that the boys who are away from home might be permitted to come back and live with the ones they love. Do your part in helping this come true this coming year . . . Invest today with the government . . . No one in the last War lost a red cent if they stood by the Government . . . How many lost when they bought oil stock and the like . . . You know the answers . . . use your head . . . talk to your banker.

IT TAKES COURAGE

To refrain from gossip when others about you delight in it.

To stand up for an absent person who is being abused

To live honestly within your means and not dishonestly on the means of others.

To be a real man, a true woman, by holding fast to your ideals when it causes you to be looked upon as strange and peculiar.

To be talked about and yet remain silent when a word would justify you in the eyes of others, but which you cannot speak without injury to another.

To refuse to do a thing which is wrong though others do it.

To live always according to your convictions.

To dress according to your income and to deny yourself what you cannot afford to buy.

Won't you take a few moments and read the Gift Guide section of this page . . . there just might be something listed there that will strike your fancy. The merchants in New Castle are doing all within their power to give you people that merchandise you desire this season . . . they are having tough job . . . Co-operate.

Few Issues Chalk Up Modest Gains; Trading Is Still Light

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—The stock market displayed a generally soft tone today, although a few issues chalked up modest gains. Trading continued light.

Among shares to buck the downward trend were Industrial Rayon, Barnsdall and Loew's, all reaching new highs for the year before profit-taking was attracted.

Losses generally were small, but a few, as Du Pont, dropped a point or more. Lesser declines were suffered by Bethlehem, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, General Motors, U. S. Rubber, American Smelting, Westinghouse, Texas Co., N. Y. Central, American Can, Consolidated Edison and United Aircraft.

Santa Fe, American Car & Foundry, American Telephone, Western Union, Montgomery Ward, Standard Oil of N. J., and Continental Can were among the stocks to chalk up fractional gains.

Commodities continued to gain ground The bond list was quiet and steady.

Health Talks

By DR. W. A. WOMER
City Health Superintendent

THE BABY

Poor little first baby! He has a hard time of it. The book says one thing. Grandma says another thing. The doctor doesn't say much.

What should we feed him? How much sleep should he have? What kind of clothing should he have? Does he need orange juice and fish liver oil? Oh, my, Oh, my, he is growing so fast that he will grow-up before I know what to do for him.

In the first place mother's milk is the best food of all. His own mother is preferable but any healthy mother is next best.

Cow's milk comes next. Your doctor will tell you how to fix it. Orange or apple juice and fish liver oil help some, too. They provide vitamins which are lacking in cow's milk.

He should sleep about eighteen hours for the first few months. Part of the time he should be in the open air and at noon should have his face exposed to the sunshine for the violet rays. Remember that they will not go through glass.

Seven teeth at seven months is a pretty good rule but not iron clad. When he gets a tooth he is ready for some chewing. Soft boiled egg is pretty good to start on.

Models of 175 of the inventions of Leonardo da Vinci, famed Italian painter, have been shown in the Museum of Science and Industry, New York City—steam, cannon armored car, alarm clock, olive oil press, flying machine and many others.

Knox admits the Japs are good at coming back. They are pretty good at going back, too.

E. J. Reinheimer Appointed Member Of Library Board

Most Routine Matters Considerad At Regular December Meeting Of Council

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 11.—Ernest J. Reinheimer, fifth ward councilman, was elected a member of the library board for a three-year term at the regular meeting of the Ellwood council held last night. He succeeds William McGlincy.

Boro Manager, Lowell W. Monroe, in accordance with an OCD ruling will be covered with a bond for the purchasing of equipment for local civilian defense activities.

It was reported that critical materials for the expansion of the sewage disposal plant could not be secured at the present time. Members objected to using substitute materials and the boro manager was instructed to again make an effort to secure the materials needed.

Total fines, costs and forfeits for the month of November amounted to $79, and the total damage for fire for November was $25 with six calls being reported. One case of contagion, scarlet fever, was announced in the health officer's report.

Other business before the council was routine.

Various War Bonds Will Be Explained

Ellwood Salesmen In Drive Being Trained To Clarify U. S. Investments

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 11.—The local Victory Fund committee is training Victory Fund volunteer salesmen and saleswomen who will call upon those who are not in a regular war bond payroll deduction plan and explain the many types of splendid investments that Uncle Sam has for them.

Uncle Sam states that the war will cost 78 billion this coming year and add 6 billion more for ordinary government expenses and that makes a total government expense of 84 billion. All taxes will only produce 24 billion dollars so that means the United States government will have to borrow 60 billion dollars.

The local Victory Fund volunteer salesman or saleswoman will not ask prospects to purchase war bond investments as though seeking a favor. This is not giving, it is lending to the government. The government promises to repay with interest. If a U. S. bond today is not the best investment in the world, there is only one that is—a Jap bond? or a German bond?

R. Charles Stiefel, Jr., chairman of the Victory Fund campaign to raise $540,000 in war bonds for the month of December here in Ellwood City, stated today that he would be very glad at any time to discuss the proper bond investment with anyone here in Ellwood City if they will call at his office.

The Christmas trees on the white way poles look like they are lighted in the daytime and Ellwood City is one of very few towns in this section of Western Pennsylvania that has daytime Christmas decorations.

Estimate Japs Have Lost 7,000 On Guadalcanal

By ROBERT BRUMBY
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

GUADALCANAL, Dec. 7—(Delayed)—The integral part of the Japanese land force on Guadalcanal has been "put out of commission," Maj. Gen. A. A. Vandergrift said today on the anniversary of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

The tough and friendly marine officer, four months after American forces landed in the Solomons, looked back on the land, sea and air battles which have raged and estimated that 7,000 Japanese have been killed in Guadalcanal land operations alone.

Such a figure would be about 10 to one in our favor and does not include the number of Japanese who lost their lives in naval operations. The total number of the enemy killed in sea activity is vastly more than the 7,000 figure for land fighting on Guadalcanal.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: In a single recent engagement, some Japanese transports were sunk and it was estimated that in the encounter the enemy lost between four and five thousand men.)
